Parents Prepare To Bury 4 Teenage Sons

By The Associated Press
The parents of four Michigan teenagers today prepared to bury their sons, who were killed when their convertible ran off a Branch County road and slammed into a group of trees. The death of the four youths Saturday night helped push the Michigan weekend traffic toll to 11.

Services will be held Tuesday in Coldwater for Donald W. Shaw, 17, the driver, his brother, William C. Shaw, 18, both of Coldwater, and Bobby Combs, 14, of Allen. The funeral for Kenneth Grippman, 14, of Montgomery, will be held in Fremont, Ind.

A fifth youth, Thomas Winfrey, 14, of Coldwater, remained in fair condition today at a Coldwater hospital. Branch County sheriff's deputies said the car was southbound on Centennial Road when the accident occurred, 257 feet from the intersection of Lockwood Road, four miles southeast of Coldwater.

Other traffic victims were: Victor Fults, 45, of Swartz Creek when he ran a stop sign and was struck by another car Sunday night at an intersection on M 21 in Genesee County west of Flint. Mrs. Clara Zolkowski, 46, of Allen Park, when the car she was riding in was struck head on by another car Sunday night on State Road, one mile south of Ann Arbor.

Melvin L. Vannest, 9, of Dearborn, when he was struck by a car on Telegraph Road in Dearborn Sunday night. Luella Krause, 52, of Taylor Center, when she was struck by a car Sunday on Telegraph Road north of Brest Road in Taylor Township. Paul Roten, 19, of Kalamazoo, in a two-car collision Saturday in Kalamazoo. Florence Ann Roberts, 27, of Detroit, when her car struck a utility pole in Detroit Friday night. John Leo Sullivan, 33, of Bessemer, died Saturday in Grand View Hospital of injuries suffered Friday night when his car was struck by another on U.S. 2, one mile west of Bessemer.

Draft At A Glance

WASHINGTON (AP)—How the military draft will operate under plans announced by President Johnson today:

Age of induction: 19-year-olds first with sharply decreased chance of being drafted for anyone who gets past that year.

Selection: By random chance from a national pool of those classified 1A after physical, mental and moral tests.

Deferments: Ending for fathers, most graduate students and those in essential occupations. Continuing for those with family hardship and those studying for physician or dentist degrees. No decision on college undergraduates.

Reservists: No draft deferment unless man is needed for a specific reserve unit vacancy; youths between 17 and minimum draft age of 18½ will get priority for reserve enlistment.

When this happens: By Jan. 1, 1969 at the latest, assuming Congress extends the basic draft law as requested.

Why it happens: "Continuation of the draft is still essential to our national security. Inequalities do result from present selection policies," says the President.

U.S. Marines Engage Enemy Near DM Zone

SAIGON (AP) — A company of U.S. Marines engaged a battalion of North Vietnamese soldiers about 3,000 yards south of the demilitarized zone today, a U.S. spokesman reported. He said the Marines called for reinforcements.

The fight along the buffer zone dividing the two Vietnams broke out this morning with a brief small-arms clash between three North Vietnamese and a Marine unit. One enemy soldier was killed.

The Marines then launched a frontal assault with artillery support and found themselves outnumbered by about 500 enemy troops firing small arms and mortars, the spokesman at Marine headquarters in Da Nang said. A Marine company usually consists of 235 men.

Leatherneck reinforcements were reported on the way. In the air war on North Vietnam, U.S. planes bombed a petroleum installation 12 to 14 miles south of Haiphong Sunday in the closest raid in weeks to North Vietnam's chief port.

A U.S. spokesman reported a secondary explosion was set off in the raid on the Do San depot, the highpoint of a day of air attacks against the North hampered by worsening weather. Air Force and Navy planes flew only 60 strike and armed reconnaissance missions.

In South Vietnam, a Viet Cong mine exploded under a bus 40 miles northwest of Saigon, killing 37 civilians and wounding 15, and the U.S. Command announced that 24 Americans were killed, 78 were wounded and four were missing in war operations in the past 48 hours. Six U.S. Army and Marine helicopters were reported downed by enemy fire.

A total of 46 enemy dead was reported by U.S. forces. The American ground casualties were disclosed under a new policy of giving specific numbers of men killed or wounded in action. The U.S. Command for the past 18 months had been reporting casualties only in terms of light, moderate or heavy, to deny information to the enemy, but American authorities said this frequently resulted in ambiguities and "the results of U.S. military actions were misunderstood."

Many of the casualties reported today occurred in small engagements in Marine operations south of the demilitarized zone and in Operation Junction City, the big U.S. sweep in Communist war zone C close to the Cambodian border. But eight of the Americans were killed in Binh Dinh Province, about 300 miles northeast of Saigon, when enemy fire brought down a large CH-47 chopper. The aircraft was badly damaged.

Suspect Held In 4 Killings

BULLETIN
James E. McBair, 26, arraigned today in Wautoma, Wis., charged with first degree murder in the shooting of his estranged wife, her sister, her stepfather and a baby-sitter, was declared an indigent and the court will appoint an attorney for him.

whether or not Miss Oleson was slain before the other three persons arrived at the cottage. She had been hired to sit with Mrs. McBair's two daughters, Mrs. McBair and her sister, Barbara, worked at Behr's Restaurant which adjoins Behr's automobile garage until about 3:30 a.m. Sunday. The three then apparently drove to the cottage where Mrs. McBair lived. Behr owned the cottage. Mrs. McBair was separated from her husband.

Deputies said the assailant apparently ripped the telephone wires from the cottage before entering.

Wautoma, a community of about 1,500 residents, is located in central Wisconsin about 40 miles west of Oshkosh. Members of the community described Behr, his daughters and Miss Oleson as "well liked."

The victims were identified as: Marvin Behr, 62, Wautoma automobile dealer and restaurant owner; Barbara Behr, 15, his daughter.

Mrs. James McBair, 25, another daughter, and Cheryl Oleson, 14, who was baby sitting with Mrs. McBair's two small children.

The children, Christine, 6 and Kathy, 4, who were found sleeping peacefully, apparently slept through the carnage.

Dutcher said the four persons were probably slain about 4 a.m. Sunday. The suspect surrendered to authorities at 3:20 a.m.

Authorities declined comment on where the bodies were found, but a trail of blood led to the cottage from outside and there was blood on the handle of the cottage's front door, indicating at least one of the victim's was shot outside. Police said a car owned by Behr was found parked in a driveway outside the cottage and a window on the passenger side was shattered by a bullet.

Washara County Sheriff Virgil Batterman said the broken window was the result of a "wild shot." There were no bloodstains inside the car.

Draft Young First Under Lottery System: Johnson

Hoffa Going To Jail Tuesday If Plea Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only one day left before the scheduled start of an eight-year prison sentence, Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa today makes an 11th hour attempt to remain free.

The head of the 1.8-million-member union must report to federal marshals here Tuesday and be transported to prison if his efforts prove futile.

His principal hope lay in a habeas corpus hearing at 12:30 p. m. at which his attorneys hoped to persuade the U.S. Court of Appeals to block his imprisonment on a jury-tampering conviction. Any other tactics his legal advisors had ready if this failed were not disclosed in advance.

Delay Denied
Two attempts to prevent or at least postpone Hoffa's approaching imprisonment failed Friday. U.S. District Judge Frank R. Wilson in Chattanooga, Tenn., denied a request for three weeks delay. In Washington Judge Matthew F. McGuire then said no again when Hoffa's attorneys applied for a writ of habeas corpus to keep the union leader out of prison.

McGuire's denial paved the way for today's hearing before the appellate court.

While fighting to stay out of prison, Hoffa, 54, has made arrangements to keep his grip on the Teamsters as secure as possible if he goes behind bars.

Keeps Office
He would still hold the title of president, although he has declined to accept his regular $100,000 salary while in prison.

Primary responsibility for running the Teamsters would pass to a Hoffa man, Frank E. Fitzsimmons. Now the union's general vice president, Fitzsimmons, 58, would have the title of acting president.

Although the trucking industry makes no bones about its feeling that the Teamsters under Hoffa have too much muscle, it is not clear what advantage they might take of his being out of the way for a while.

Hoffa's opponents within the union are probably making plans too, but they aren't talking about them.

Mackinaw Frees Wawatam Of Ice

ST. IGNACE (AP) — An ice breaker steamed to the rescue, and cut loose a railroad ferry that had been stuck on ice piles in the Straits of Mackinac for eight hours.

A Coast Guard spokesman said the ice breaker—the Mackinaw—freed the Chief Wawatam at about 2 p.m. Saturday night.

The Chief Wawatam, with 15 men aboard, was in no danger when it got stuck, the Coast Guard said.

Lake Central Airliner Crash In Ohio Kills 38

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — An airliner flown by Lake Central's senior pilot exploded out of a stormy sky Sunday night, killing 38 persons in the airline's first fatal crash.

At least seven of the dead were Michigan residents. None was from the Upper Peninsula.

Wreckage from the Convair turboprop plane was scattered over snow-covered farm fields near Mansfield, a town of 170 residents in northwest Ohio.

About 150 officers and volunteers probed through snow and ankle-deep mud for the bodies, most of them found in a bean field where the main part of the fuselage fell.

The bodies were hauled in tractor-pulled farm wagons to a temporary morgue in an unused elementary school.

Recorder Recovered
Investigating teams from the airline headquarters in Indianapolis and the Civil Aeronautics Board moved in to probe for the cause of the first major domestic air tragedy since a crash near Portland, Ore., took 18 lives last October.

The plane's flight recorder was recovered intact.

Some residents timed the first blast at 8:10 p.m., the exact time an air traffic control center in Cleveland reported it lost radar contact with the plane.

Five minutes earlier the pilot, Capt. John Horn, had radioed he was climbing from 8,000 to 10,000 feet, apparently to avoid storms which swirled aleet and snow over this area.

Horn, 45 and a Lake Central pilot since the line's first flight Nov. 12, 1949, gave no indication of trouble, but residents told of one or more explosions.

Heard Engines
"It sounded like an awful combustion and we thought there had been an automobile accident," said Irene Heckathorn.

"There was no fire, no lights on the plane. I even heard the engines after the first explosion. We still heard the engines after the last two explosions."

Her husband, Robert, found a small girl's body in their yard.

Most of the wreckage of the Convair 580, a propeller craft converted to use turbojet engines, fell a mile away on the Charles O. Redding farm.

"About half the fuselage was intact," said Redding's son, Tex. "The other half looked as if it exploded outward. The cabin looked like it had been split in two."

Bodies Near Wreckage
He said most of the bodies were within 200 yards of the wreckage.

One of those killed was an infant, among 10 passengers who boarded the plane at Cincinnati.

Today's Chuckle
It's hard to know when one generation ends and the next begins—but it's somewhere around 9 o'clock at night.

cinnati. The flight began in Chicago and was to terminate in Detroit after a stop in Toledo.

Two passengers boarded the flight in Chicago, one at Lafayette, Ind., 10 at Cincinnati and 21 at Columbus. Horn and First Officer Roger Skillman, 33, both lived in Indianapolis.

Two Injured As 45 C&O Freight Cars Jump Rails

HOLLAND, (AP)—Bulldozers and cranes worked today to clear a half mile of railroad track near New Richmond, in west Michigan, after 45 cars of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train rumbled off the tracks Sunday.

The wreckage was holding up traffic between Chicago and Grand Rapids, railroad officials said.

Allegan County Sheriff's officers said collapse of the rails may have caused the accident which sent three cars into the Kalamazoo River and put two of the train's three engines off the track.

Two men suffered whiplash injuries when the cars tumbled off the tracks.

Deferment For Fathers, Grad Students Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today he will order younger men drafted first under a lottery-type system as part of an overhaul of Selective Service.

His announcement of actions to come within two years — mostly without need of congressional approval — follows months of study and controversy over the nation's draft system.

The President said deferments for fathers, men with essential occupations and most graduate students will be ended. But in a special draft message sent from the Texas White House, he postponed indefinitely a politically touchy decision on whether to end undergraduate student deferments. Family hardship deferments will be continued, Johnson said.

He asked Congress to extend for four years the draft law expiring June 30.

He made it clear that some features of the revised draft

Record Profits:

North Central All-Jet By '68

In 1966, North Central Airlines achieved the largest profit in its 19-year history on record revenues and led the entire regional airline industry in passenger traffic. Hal N. Carr, president, stated today in the company's annual report.

Net earnings for the year were $1,154,611. This was accomplished in spite of a $1,431,530 reduction in public service revenues. The profit was attained on record revenues of $39,612,671—17 per cent ahead of 1965. The $5,721,640 gain in revenues was the greatest in the company's history.

Carr reported the airline's record profit was made possible by increasing commercial revenues and intensifying the company's cost control program. Carr pointed out that North Central reached the all-time high for regional airlines by enplaning 2,056,209 passengers in 1966.

The company took another step forward in its equipment modernization program in August 1966 by announcing that its Convair 440 aircraft would be converted to 580 prop-jets. The 31-aircraft plan calls for the initial conversion of 20 Convairs, with an option on the other 11. Two Convair 580's have already been delivered in 1967, and will be in scheduled operation April 1. Douglas DC-9 fan jet service will be inaugurated in the Summer. North Central has 10 of the 100-passenger jets on order and an option on five more. By 1968, the airline will have an all jet-powered fleet.

North Central maintained its perfect 19-year safety record in 1966. Since inaugurating service in 1948, the airline has carried 13,700,000 passengers and flown 2,272,400,000 passenger miles without a single fatality or injury to passengers or crew members.

North Central serves Escanaba and 89 other cities in 10 Midwest states and Canada over a 7,000-mile route system.

Mr. Lacoursier Taken By Death

HERMANVILLE — Lawrence Levi Lacoursier, 61, retired farmer and woodsman, died at Newberry early Sunday.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in St. Mary's Church at Hermanville with the Rev. Gervase Brewer officiating. Burial will be in the Meyers Township Cemetery, Hermanville.

LINDA HALE, 19, a Ferris State College sophomore from Boyne City, was crowned the 1967 Michigan Collegiate Snow Queen Saturday night at Northern Michigan University in Marquette. The blue-eyed blond was selected from 18 candidates representing as many Michigan colleges. The crowning took place at NMU's Snow Queen Ball climaxing a week long winter carnival.

Double Daylight Time Is Fought

Mrs. Andrew Jackson, Livingston County farm wife, says that statewide opposition is building against the new, fast-time standards proposed by Congress.

To prove her point, she recently presented Rep. Thomas Sharpe (R-Howell), chairman of the State Affairs Committee of the Legislature, with a stack of petitions bearing nearly 25,000 signatures in this one group, of people who favor keeping Michigan on present time schedules.

Sharpe's committee has been holding hearings on the fast-time issue and the House of Representatives is expected to soon follow the state Senate's lead in considering a bill to exempt Michigan from the proposed federal time standards.

Under provisions of "Public Law 89-387," Congress requires that all clocks in the United States be moved ahead one hour on the last Sunday in April and moved back one hour on the last Sunday in October.

However, the law provides that a state legislature may act to exempt that state from the law. Farmers and others are urging that the Michigan Legislature move to side-step the federal act.

"They say that cows can't tell time, so why all the farm opposition over the proposal to move Michigan clocks ahead in April?" Mrs. Jackson asks. In answering her own question, she makes it plain that although cows can't tell time, dairy farmers surely can. "and dairy farm help want to work on the normal schedule of the community. They must take advantage of the sun, but if they do under the proposed 'double daylight saving time,' they will be completely excluded from the social life of the community."

Mrs. Jackson points out that more than 20 years ago (in 1946) Michigan moved its clocks ahead to the equivalent of Central Daylight Saving Time.

"Now Congress asks us to move our clocks ahead another full hour! That's why I call it 'double daylight saving time,'" she said.

"Under such time, it would be after 10 a.m. before many types of field work could start, and most hired labor insists on quitting at 4:30 or 5 p.m. This leaves four or five hours of the best harvest time with no labor except overtime help."

Gas Utility To Spend $516,000 On U.P. Works

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. and its affiliated principal supplier, Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co., today announced their 1967 construction programs totaling $94 million.

Ralph T. McElvenny, president of Michigan Consolidated and chairman of the Detroit based interstate pipeline firm, said Michigan Consolidated will invest $29 million and construct 334 miles of gas distribution and transmission mains. The utility expects to add approximately 28,000 new residential and commercial heating customers in the year.

McElvenny said Michigan Wisconsin will spend $65 million on new pipeline facilities which will enable it to increase its salable supply of natural gas by 168 million cubic feet a day, to a total of 2.6 billion.

The utility's Northern District will invest $3,776,000, run 150 miles of mains and add 5,580 heating customers.

In the Upper Peninsula where Michigan Consolidated serves 48 communities in the central counties, the utility will invest $516,000 and construct 17 miles of new mains. Heating customers are expected to increase by 2,500, mainly in the larger communities which include Iron Mountain, Iron River, Escanaba and Munising.

Michigan Consolidated also supplies Sault Ste. Marie with gas manufactured from propane, and is working to get natural gas to eastern U.P. communities by 1968.

Michigan Wisconsin has two major construction projects slated for Michigan this year. It will install 55 miles of 24-inch "loop" line along its existing pipeline between Payne, Ohio and Bridgman, Mich.,

which ties together the company's main lines from Louisiana and Texas. Thirty miles of this project are located in Michigan and will cost some $3.3 million. Michigan Wisconsin will also construct 20 miles of 30-inch "loop" line on its main pipeline from Texas to Central Michigan, south of Big Rapids. This project will cost $2.4 million.

C&NW To Buy 1000 Box Cars

Directors of the Chicago and North Western Railway have authorized purchase of 1,000 new box cars designed for the movement of paper and other high grade commodities. The cars will cost $13.5 million.

The order for the 50-foot six-inch cars, all of which will be equipped with cushion underframes, nailable steel floors, 10-foot doors and roller bearings, has been placed with the American Car & Foundry Division of ACF Industries. The cars will be constructed at St. Louis.

The $46 million capital improvement program of the railroad for 1967 will be increased to $60 million as a result of the commitment to purchase the 1,000 box cars.

February Tolls At Mackinac Under 1966's

ST. IGNACE — Mackinac Bridge traffic and revenues for February were slightly under the same month of a year ago. Prentiss M. Brown, Mackinac Bridge Authority chairman, "Although February traffic is the smallest of the year, it may be indicative of a current dropping off in economic activity. Bridge crossings were down 1.5 per cent from 30,200 vehicles last year to 29,734 total crossings this year. Revenues were off 3.4 per cent.

Brown said that despite last month's drop in traffic and revenues it was the second best February in bridge history. He added that a difference of less than 500 cars in any month could be attributed to many causes, like severe weather in January, or a variation in skiing conditions between the Upper and Lower Peninsulas. Truck traffic was off only 0.7 per cent.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation 250. At all drug counters.

Shopping Mall Idea Favored By Commission

The concepts of a central business district development and the establishment of a government center in Escanaba have received the endorsement of the Escanaba Planning Commission.

Meeting in the Chamber of Commerce building Thursday night with Chairman Matt Smith presiding, the Planning Commission devoted much of its meeting to a general discussion of ideas contained in preliminary planning reports received by the city from Harland Bartholomew & Associates.

The firm of professional planning consultants has been retained by the city to develop a comprehensive plan for the community. Three preliminary studies have been completed and reports filed with the city by Thompson Dyke, associate partner in the consulting firm.

The Planning Commission, following discussion, moved that:

1 — The Commission adopt the concept of a government center.

2 — That the concept of a shopping mall as a plan for the downtown central business development be adopted.

3 — As part of that plan, the city should acquire the Chicago & North Western Railway property and any other pieces of property north of Ludington St that are necessary for development in the central business district plan.

There were indications that the Commission is interested in seeing the advancement of central business district planning as rapidly as it can reasonably be carried forward.

The recommendations of the Planning Commission are made to the City Council.

Presently the city is in the process of acquiring properties in a proposed downtown parking lot fronting on 1st Ave. N. in the 1100 and 1200 blocks.

Cliff Arquette, who played the role of Charlie Weaver, a hick from Mount Idie, for years on the Jack Paar Show, was a guest on the Andy Williams Show on NBC Sunday night and mentioned Escanaba—twice.

Arquette played at the Upper Peninsula State Fair in 1962 and his choice of a city to hang a joke on is believed by Pat Hayes to come out of that engagement. "He liked it here," said Pat.

Weaver, telling Williams the latest gossip from Mount Idie, said that his father had caught his whiskers in the seat belt of the jet and it caused him to sneeze and rip out a row of seats. The plane had to land and Weaver Pere spent the weekend in Escanaba.

Jon Thorin, manager of the Escanaba Airport, said it would have been glad to provide emergency accommodations for a jet but that the weekend had brought it none. "You know that Charlie Weaver stretches the truth at times," said Thorin.

U.P. Contractors Fight Bond Law

Arnold A. Rautiola of Hancock, secretary of the Committee on the Small Contractors' Law, states that Senators Thomas F. Schweigert and Joseph S. Mack have offered their support of the committee's recommendation to exclude from this law counties with a population less than 100,000.

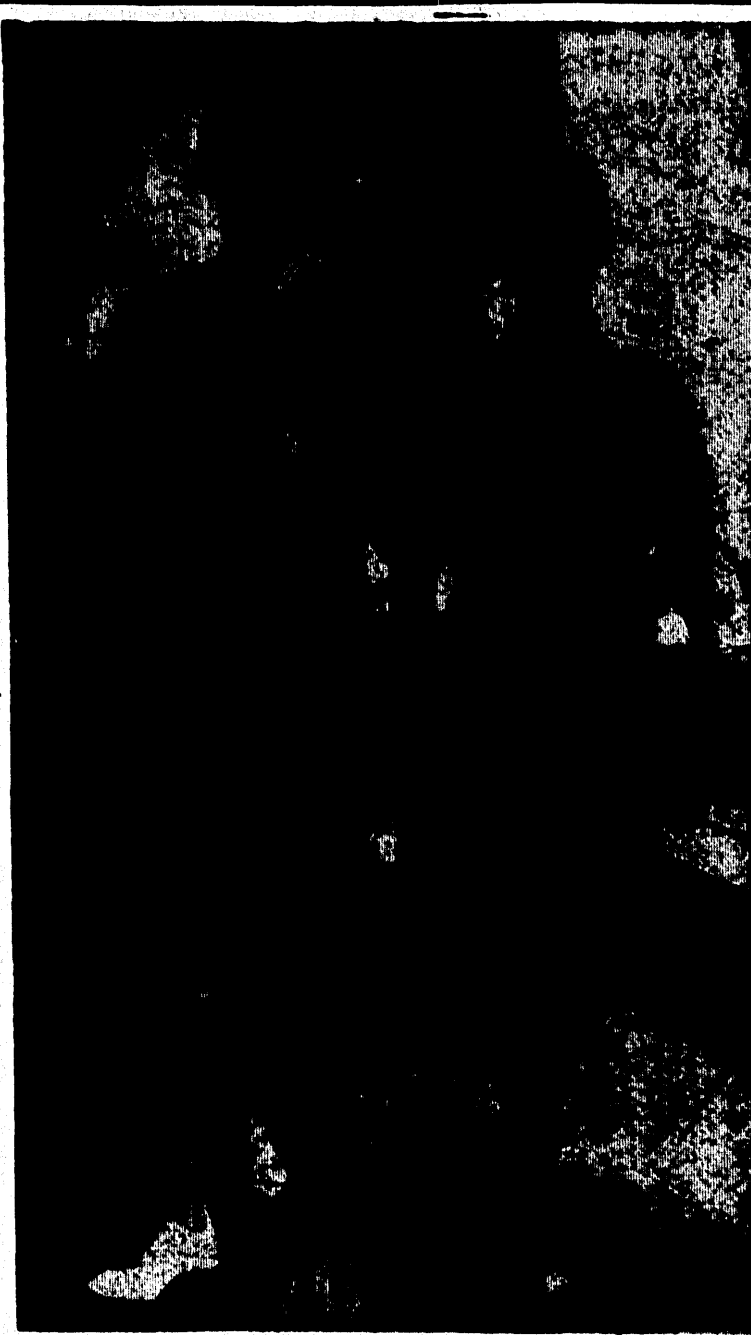

Rautiola states that the Independent Contractor's Association, has obtained a temporary injunction restraining enforcement of this law pending their suit in the Ingham Circuit Court in which they seek to invalidate the 1965 law.

The Small Contractors Law which covers bonding of construction, remodeling and repairing of private homes, has been protested throughout Michigan's smaller counties particularly. Rautiola said that 67 of Michigan's 83 counties have a population of less than 100,000.

Romney Says GOP Can Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney believes a Republican can defeat President Johnson in 1968, even if the war in Vietnam is settled, because "the country doesn't have particular confidence in the President."

"Nineteen sixty-eight is going to be a tough battle," said Romney, who clearly wants to be the Republican waging it. "I think as a result of the 1966 election people have given us an opportunity to demonstrate that we can provide better leadership."

"And I think we're going to have to propose programs to convince them that we can do a better job," the governor said in an interview with The Associated Press.

He said his announced effort to sample the party and public climate for a presidential bid has so far been encouraging.

Guindon Named Vice President Of Clerk Group

Don Guindon, Escanaba city clerk, was elected third vice president of the Municipal Clerks Association of Michigan at a meeting in Detroit last week.

Lloyd Hendon of Flint is president, Arthur Lutscher of Muskegon is first vice president and Charles Rhodes of St. Joseph is second vice president.

At its conference the clerks association discussed elections, legislation, licensing, data processing and other matters of interest to their officers.

Escanaba was host to the clerks state convention in June last year.

Hart's Sleeping Bear Bill Back

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to create a Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore in western Michigan was proposed today by Sen. Philip A. Hart and Rep. James G. O'Hara, Michigan Democrats.

The bills are identical to one approved last year by the House Interior Committee but which did not get to the House floor. They call for a 61,171-acre park to include both North and South Manitou islands and 64 miles of shoreline.

The Senate in the past Congress passed a bill to create a 46,073-acre Sleeping Bear Dunes Lakeshore. The House Committee then added the 14,100-acre North Manitou Island plus a buffer zone on the mainland.

Hart and O'Hara said in a joint statement the need for action was a matter of concern last week at a meeting of the Michigan congressional delegation and executives of the Michigan Conservation Department.

Has State Backing
"Ralph MacMillan, the department's director, made it clear that the state administration wholeheartedly backs the park as necessary to maintain decent recreational facilities in the state," the two said.

Hart said that in the past Congress his colleague, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., recommended limitations on condemnation and a payment-in-lieu-of-taxes provision.

"Both were rejected by the committees," Hart said. "Hence, the bill as introduced does not include them."

Presumably, oart of the reason the House failed to act on the bill late in the session last year was that Congress passed a bill to authorize establishment of a Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore in Michigan's Upper Peninsula on Lake Superior.

Opposition Subsidies

There was speculation at the time that Congress would not enact both pieces of legislation at the same session. There was less controversy over the Pictured Rocks bill than there had been over Sleeping Bear Dunes.

However, much of the earlier opposition to sleeping Bear Dunes has subsided and Michigan Gov. George Romney and various state officials backed the bill.

The House Interior Committee last August approved the Sleeping Bear Dunes bill 17 - 12 on a roll call vote, reversing a previous 12 - 8 vote against the bill.

The Hyuse committee inserted a provision that the state would have to donate the 8,373 acres of land it owns within the lakeshore area instead of being paid for it as provided in the bill which had passed the Senate.

The state wanted to use the payments for its land for two school districts within the area in lieu of taxes.

Paying For College

Delta County is facing some educational birth pains.

Bay de Noc Community College is outgrowing its present housing on the old Escanaba High School campus and its trustees are currently in the process of making a selection of a site for the college so that it will have a permanent home of its own on which to base its growth. (Its present building is leased from the Escanaba Area School District and will no doubt be used for many years no matter what decision is reached.)

The public reaction to the college's growth is not, realistically, apt to be so much "Goodie-goodie!" as "What is this going to cost me?"

It's going to cost something, all right, but we can at least have the good feeling that it is an investment in growth and not a contribution to a disaster fund of some sort.

It is significant and it should be known to the public that the Board of Trustees of Bay de Noc Community College has authority without any public election to finance the college campus acquisition and buildings. The board has known for two years that it has authority to raise 1 1/2 per cent of college district's valuation for construction without a referendum. Delta has a valuation of about $80 million so that would be $1.2 million.

The board hasn't hurried to use this authority. Boards of some community colleges elsewhere have done so. Some of them have over-committed their districts for college buildings. Michigan is on a shake-down cruise in higher education that hasn't yet determined the specific relationship of the two-year community colleges to the four-year colleges and universities.

If Detroit, for instance, were to go heavily into the community college program it could make some empty beds in four-year college dormitories.

The basic concept of the community college is that it will provide two years of college work or vocational training at home, giving college entry opportunities to thousands more students and saving a heck of a lot of money for everyone in the process.

Bay de Noc has kept its tuition rate low. It has one of the lowest in Michigan. This is in keeping with the community college concept of excellent schooling at bargain rates. (Community colleges are financed by state aid, a local tax—of one mill in Delta County—and by tuition paid by the students.)

But there is a limit to economy in the service of needs and Bay de Noc College will probably have to raise its tuition this year and also ask more millage. The Press believes that the college should keep its rates as low as they can be, consistent with good schooling; that there should be a minimum of frills and a maximum of solid instruction; that it should be a "working" college.

We have complete confidence that the Board of Trustees and administration of Bay de Noc College share this view fully. We think it is the only outlook that can fully realize the college's potential for service. If it becomes burdensome for local taxpayers its growth is going to be retarded, even though it still represents a bargain in education. There will be an inclination to let our young people go elsewhere to begin college and this will inevitably mean that fewer of them will get to college.

We are hopeful that the persons whom the community college program will achieve the delicate balance between need and resources that will best serve both elements. We have only to look elsewhere to see that some communities have goofed in their college arrangements.

They were overly ambitious and they overbuilt and overextended themselves. Professional planners have made a contribution to these errors. They seem to feel that they must earn their pay and that they won't be thanked for thinking small, so they dream up some doozies for the local folks to pay for and try to take pride in.

Each year the community colleges of Michigan have said that they would build $20 million worth of new college facilities and they asked the state to match that local program with state construction aid funds. (Last year they asked for $50 millions!) If the state had put up the matching funds that the colleges requested, they would have overbuilt.

We have been spared this sort of foolishness in Delta County by an economy-minded administration and trusteeship at Bay de Noc, so they merit a friendly hearing as they prepare to tell the public what they think should be spent on the college additionally, to equip it to serve educational needs here.

Eye On Space Costs

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is a new program in which the space program may face its most serious challenge in the months ahead.

Rumblings already are being heard in Capitol Hill over continuing the Administration's $5 billion a year space expenditures while the Vietnamese war costs are running so high.

For months the mood for a slowdown has been strong, even among some avid space supporters. A slash of almost $400 million has been predicted.

Signs are that the tragic accident in which astronauts Virgil Grissom, Edward White and Roger Chaffee died added much strength to the "let's-go-slower" group's arguments.

The focus of its attack is likely to be the after-the-moon program budgeted for almost a half billion dollars in President's fiscal 1968 proposals.

These include: "Manned flights in earth orbit of up to one year's duration... using a multiple rendezvous technique and reusing empty rocket tanks and other systems left in orbit."

"Manned exploration missions of up to 14 days on the surface of the moon."

Off and Running

UAW Manpower Expert Says:

Job Change Needs Reform In Schools

Schools should change to meet the challenges of modern society and its need for industrial skills, Joseph V. Tuma, executive director of UPAC, told the Research Council of the Great Cities Program for School Improvement in Chicago.

Tuma is leaving the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress to join the staff of the University of Michigan as a manpower development specialist. He is a former manpower training specialist of the United Auto Workers.

Tuma told the Chicago conference that in Manpower Development and Training Act skill centers in Marquette and in Detroit he saw youth — "pushouts" — receiving training and education which bypasses educational methodology or our established teachers' colleges. We see adults in their middle years who both agonize and joy when they learn how to write a word, read a sentence or weld a bead.

Most important is the experience of those teachers who are told their job is to correct failures of their colleagues in conventional education, the failure of their students and mostly the failure of the public itself over the past two decades.

"When we talk of manpower development I believe we are addressing ourselves to the most critical shortage in the next two decades — manpower. The scientific revolution of the past 25 years has left in its wake vast needs and opportunities. The fact that the House of Representatives passed the Manpower Development & Training Act 380-0 represented something more than compassion for the poor."

"It signaled the need for utilizing each American's capacity to the fullest because his skill potential is needed in our economy; because there must be a better way of subsistence than human vegetation shrouded in public assistance. And, I hope, because some of us see in the technological revolution the hope of all men to fulfill their own individual potentials for self-expression."

Working Lives
"If we are to believe that continued training and education are a necessary ingredient — that retraining will occur 3 to 6 times during the normal working life — that leisure should be individually and socially useful — that occupational training should be compensated for as part of our economic investment — then I assert our schools can serve as the real pivot point for the best of community action. This does not happen automatically, but there is emerging communication and in some places a wholesome respect and regard among diverse community groups."

By and large, the post-Apollo program as now worked out is a relatively cautious program, though dangerous, of course, as is any exploration into space. As has been mentioned, it would do better with a diversion of more funds to basic and state-of-the-art research.

But the big danger is that we will cut back on the program now, then later decide that we have to keep ahead of the Russians. This could lead to a crash program and the crash fever which goes with it. Such a program would mean greater chance — taking and therefore a greater risk of accidents.

Need Job Trends
"We are asking too much of young men and women to make up their minds as to what they want to do in this changing world when those of us who are adults and mature cannot accurately assess the changes. But several steps are important in occupational counseling and placement:

"1. There must be close correlation between counselors, vocational educators and the public Employment Service.

Joseph V. Tuma

"2. We must urge the U. S. Employment Service to provide accurate occupational forecasts indicating jobs that are ascending and those that are declining. This is an area where even experts are not specific.

"3. Local boards of education and local school administrators must recognize that both job preparation and life adjustment are responsibilities of our school system.

"4. Expanded school curricula for entering the world of work frequently requires a 13th or 14th year of education and this should be available without cost.

South Did Not Trust Partner

for the part score) and that if he set three hearts one trick he would only collect 100 points unless he doubled.

His analysis was correct. Playing at three hearts West would have to lose two heart tricks and one trick in each other suit. Unfortunately, North had reckoned without his partner. South was unwilling to defend against three hearts doubled and ran out to three spades. West doubled this on general principles and five potential tricks. As the cards lay, West might actually have beaten South two tricks by opening the king of clubs although South could hold his loss to one by guessing the location of every card, but West started out by taking his high red cards and South was down one for the same bottom score that down two would have been.

This week's series will cover the problem of reopening the bidding when your opponents stop at a part score. We start with a horrible example from a match point duplicate game. There was nothing wrong with the first round of bidding. West had a sound opening bid and South was justified in reopening. He had spades and it was obvious after East's pass that North was going to show up with some strength. West's two diamond bid was a trifle dangerous but West was looking at three aces and two kings. North's raise to two spades was sound. East's three heart bid was typical duplicate tactics. He had passed to one heart and now was ready to compete. South and East had done all they could and North proceeded to double three hearts. His theory was that his partner would make two spades for a score of 110 (60 plus 50 for the part score) and that if he set three hearts one trick he would only collect 100 points unless he doubled.

Time Action By Deadline Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The law requiring all states to observe daylight saving time goes into effect April 1, but 18 House members are fighting a last-ditch battle to win exemptions.

They have introduced bills to alter, in various ways, the law putting all of the nation's clocks one hour ahead of regular time from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October every year.

But there seems little prospect for action on any of the proposals by April 1. The House Commerce Committee, which has jurisdiction over such legislation, has no hearings scheduled.

No Exemptions

Under the new law, any state may exempt itself from daylight saving time, but only if it exempts the entire state. None has acted so far, the Interstate Commerce Commission reports.

The law poses special problems for 12 states which are in more than one time zone. In Michigan, for example, the Upper and Lower peninsulas are in different time zones but have managed to stay on the same time by keeping the Upper Peninsula on Central Daylight Time and the Lower Peninsula on Eastern Standard Time.

Under the new law, the state would be breaking the law by maintaining the present arrangement.

State In One Zone

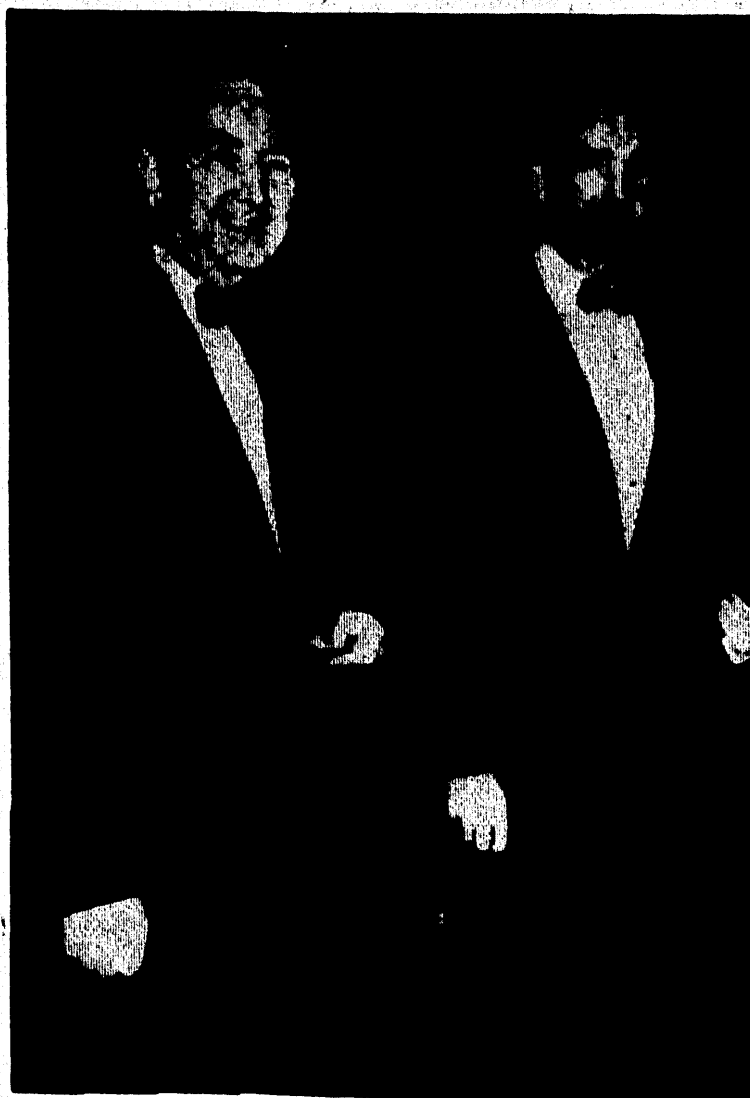

So four Michigan House members, Republican Reps. Gerald R. Ford, Charles Chamberlain, Philip E. Ruppe and James Harvey, have introduced proposals to permit any state to put all of itself into one time zone.

Rep. J. Edward Roush, a Democrat from Indiana — another state split by two time zones — wants to make it possible for part of a state to be exempted from daylight saving time. A similar proposal was passed by the Senate last year but rejected by the House.

Other states in more than one time zone are Kentucky, Tennessee, North Dakota, South Dakota, Florida, Nebraska, Kansas, Idaho, Utah and Oregon.

Five bills, all introduced by conservative Midwesterners, would limit daylight saving time to the period from Memorial Day to Labor Day, chopping off one month at the start and seven weeks at the end.

Point Barrow, Alaska, is the northernmost town in the United States since the admission of that state into the Union.

Shamrocks Have 40 Green Tints

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

About four million Americans are habitual or occasional sleepwalkers.

Poverty doesn't necessarily keep you skinny. Studies show that women in low-income families are six times as likely to become obese as those who live on a luxury level.

The "shamrock king" of Ireland is Paddy O'Grady of Limerick who mails half a million of the three-leafed plants to Irishmen around the world for St. Patrick's Day. Shamrocks aren't all identical in color. They come in at least 40 tints and shades of green.

Our senior citizens are getting more independent. Nearly four out of five of the 18 million Americans over 65 maintain their own households — and seem to prefer to live that way. A survey by Cornell University of 2,300 elderly parents disclosed that only a tenth of them thought their married children should support them.

Nation Of Losers

We're a nation of losers. Each year we lose approximately $700 million in cash and men and women seem to be about equally careless in this respect.

Quotable notables: "God help the man who won't marry until he finds a perfect woman, and God help him still more if he finds her." — Ben Tillet.

Feeling a bit crowded? Well, the outlook is for more of the same. The world population is increasing by 180,000 people a day.

Half the U.S. youngsters under 18 now have their own life insurance policies. The average coverage is for $6,000.

Women and teen-agers are reputed to be the biggest victims of "telephonitis," but it is also estimated that a typical businessman during his career will spend 9,000 hours on the telephone — the equivalent of a full year.

16 Billion Aspirins

Despite the rash of new miracle drugs, aspirin is still civilization's most popular remedy for civilization's most common ailment — headaches. Last year Americans gulped some 16 billion aspirin tablets.

Can you identify these U.S. presidents by their nicknames: "Farmer President," "Ten-Cent Jimmy," "American Caesar," and "Stocking-Foot Orator"? They were George Washington, James Buchanan, U.S. Grant, and William McKinley.

In Cleopatra's time wealthy women softened their complexions by wearing an overnight facial pack made of honey, barley flour and narcissus balm. They removed the goo next morning with almond oil.

Banks' Assets $7.6 Billions

LANSING (AP)—Total assets of Michigan's state chartered banks and trust companies amounted to $7.6 billion as of last Dec. 31, and represented a $215.7-million increase since last Sept. 20, State Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay said here.

The figures represent 247 banks with 527 branches and one trust company on Dec. 31, as compared with 250 banks with 509 branches and one trust company on Sept. 20, Slay said.

The decrease in banks during the period is a result of one bank having been placed in receivership and the consolidation of two others, he added.

Loans and discounts totaling $4.2 billion and total deposits of $6.8 billion were all-time highs, Slay said.

Todd Named To Parenthood Post

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Congressman Paul H. Todd Jr. of Michigan has been named a chief executive officer of Planned Parenthood-World Population, it was announced Sunday night.

Todd, 45, was credited with initiating birth control amendments to last year's Food for Peace Act. He has been active in development of several bills to extend family planning assistance in the United States and abroad.

Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, who is president of the organization dealing with national family planning, said that in the newly created post Todd will administer and coordinate cooperative activities of its 150 affiliates in major cities.

Todd currently is chairman of the board of the Kalamazoo Spice Extraction Co. He served one term in Congress, 1964-66, as a Democrat from Battle Creek.

What's next?

After you help bring Christmas to an Indian village, convert 8,000 talking book machines for the blind, and send 200,000 pounds of soap to people in Vietnam, what's next?

Maybe it's toys to fix for orphaned children. Or service to give to the mentally retarded. Or a neighborhood in special need. It could be anything. As long as it's for somebody else . . . and you're one of the 8,500 men and women in Michigan who belong to the Telephone Pioneers of America. These are the people who've been in the telephone industry 21 years or more, and get a kick out of doing things for others in their spare time. Most of them are still serving in the communications industry. So they know a lot about service. And Michigan Bell is proud of the work they're doing . . . on and off the job.

Birchers Claim Negro Members

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A spokesman for the John Birch Society says the organization now includes about 400 Negro members.

John H. Roussetot, Birch Society public relations director, told a City College audience that some of the group's Negro members hold staff positions and are in demand as speakers.

"They (Negroes) know we're not in favor of white power or black power—just the power of all Americans," said Roussetot.

Autopsy Asked In Road Death Of Man, 55

An autopsy was requested today to determine the cause of death of a Brampton man who was run over by an automobile about 12:15 a.m. on US-241 in Gladstone.

Dead is Oscar Sinnaeve, 55, Gladstone police said. Mr. Sinnaeve was struck by a car driven by Larry Dillabough, Rte. 1, Gladstone, after he had fallen or stumbled from his pickup truck about one tenth of a mile south of the 6th Ave. intersection with US-241.

Officers theorized that Mr. Sinnaeve may have had a heart attack and attempted to get out the pickup truck he was driving when he fell. They said he was reportedly under a physician's care for a heart ailment.

The pickup truck was pulled off the highway on the shoulder of the southbound lanes. Police said his body was lying face down in the right hand lane of the divided highway.

Dr. Carl Olson, county medical examiner, pronounced him dead at the scene. Officers said the accident is still under investigation. State Police reported that Dillabough was the second car on the scene after Mr. Sinnaeve had fallen, the first car swerving to miss him.

The victim was reportedly enroute to Escanaba. The body was removed to the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home in Gladstone and taken this morning to the Skradski Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Mr. Sinnaeve was born Feb. 27, 1912, in Belgium and has resided in St. Nicholas, Gladstone and Manitowoc, Wis., as well as in the Brampton area. He was employed as a woodworker.

Survivors include his widow, Angeline, four sons, three daughters, three brothers and two sisters.

Briefly Told

Shoppers Town management notified police that $189.17 in cash is missing from the store, believed to have been taken about two weeks ago. The report was received by police Sunday morning.

Mike Samuelson, 5, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Samuelson of 917 Washington Ave., suffered wounds on both his legs when he entered a pen in which there was a dog owned by Robert Polowski of 920 Washington Ave., it was reported to police. The incident occurred in the Polowski yard. The dog is being observed for rabies.

State Police issued traffic summonses Sunday to John Little, Rte. 1, Gladstone, speeding; Ronald Demaree, 1401 S. 14th St., Escanaba, improper overtaking and passing in a posted zone; Edward Klekamp, Rte. 1, Wilson, no registration or proof of insurance; Robert Kossov, Rock, no registration, expired driver's license and failure to stop for stop sign.

James M. Dugener, 18, of Owassa, Mich., escaped injury when his car spun and rolled over on U.S. 2 and 41 about 9:45 a.m. Sunday. State Police said he was attempting to turn north on U.S. 41. Officers reported a faulty steering mechanism caused the accident. Dugener was not ticketed.

Traffic violation tickets have been issued by Escanaba police to Lawrence J. Dubord, 302 S. 9th St., improper turn; Lela E. Dubord, Gladstone Rte. 1, failing to yield the right of way; John G. Steinmetz, 2332 Ludington St., improper passing and lane usage; Rene J. DeVoght Jr., Marquette, disobeying a stop sign and failing to yield the right of way; Richard P. Henderson, 1612 N. 19th St., speeding; George W. Novak, Bark River Rte. 3, failing to exercise due care; Bernard C. Schiavo, Crystal Falls, expired operator's license; Kerry J. Denoo, 807 N. 20th St., driving on the sidewalk; Eugene G. Roberts, 2704 Lake Shore Drive, speeding; Roger J. Visu, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding; Joyce L. Beaudoin, 1617 S. 16th St., disobeying a stop sign.

Deferment For Fathers, Grad Students Ends

Johnson shied away from total endorsement of recommendations made to him by a 20-member advisory commission in a report released Saturday.

Although a commission majority urged an end to all student deferments, Johnson asserted that "an issue so deeply important, with so many compelling factors on both sides, cannot be decided until its every aspect has been thoroughly explored."

He did not indicate when he might make up his mind on this topic.

Draft Bill Change

The President also side-stepped, at least for the time being, a commission recommendation that the nation's 4,100 local draft boards be whittled down to a few hundred. He ordered a management study on that.

For draft-eligible men, the big news was that months may pass before they'll find out exactly where they stand.

Once the new format takes effect, however, draftees will be mostly 18-year-olds selected by lot. Young men will be most vulnerable to the draft for only one year. If they get through that year without putting on a uniform, they'll probably escape military service altogether, bearing a big increase in manpower requirements.

4 Year Extension

The principal action Johnson seeks from Congress is a four-year extension of the draft law. It is critically important, he said, that the nation continue to ask some of its younger men to serve in uniform.

"We would be an irresponsible nation if we did not, and perhaps an extinct one," he said.

Johnson said he will end deferments for graduate students except for those preparing for careers as physicians or dentists. Divinity students already are deferred by law.

This means few students seeking advanced degrees will be eligible for deferment.

Reserve Service

Johnson also said youths between 17 and the minimum draft age of 18½ will get priority for reserve enlistment. But men 18½ or older who enlist in the reserves will get deferments only if necessary to fill a specific vacancy in a reserve unit.

He also asked Congress for standby authority to draft men into reserve and National Guard units which cannot maintain authorized strength, and for permanent authority to activate reservists who are not fulfilling their obligations.

The two biggest changes in the draft system, however, will be these:

Younger men will be drafted first. The present pattern is to induct older men first.

Chosen By Lot

For the first time since World War II, men to be drafted will be chosen by lot. The precise system hasn't been devised but Johnson gave it a name and a set of initials: "Fair and Impartial Random System of Selection." It will be known as FAIR.

In essence, here is how it will work.

Each year there will be a lottery pool containing the names of all eligible 18-year-olds plus older men whose deferments expired in that particular year. The names will be ranked under the "fair" system and will be inducted in order, as needed.

Since the draft claims only 100,000 to 200,000 men each year — and nearly 2 million reach 19 annually — many youths classified 1A can expect to maintain their civilian status throughout their one year in the prime pool.

Prime Pool

In the following year their prime pool would be replaced by another and their chances of induction would drop sharply.

Johnson said these innovations would take effect not later than Jan. 1, 1969.

"We would hope it would be much sooner," one high administration official said.

Within the draft advisory commission, a sizable minority favored continued deferment of students.

The impact of a decision in this area is clear from the fact that about one-third of all 18-year-olds go to college.

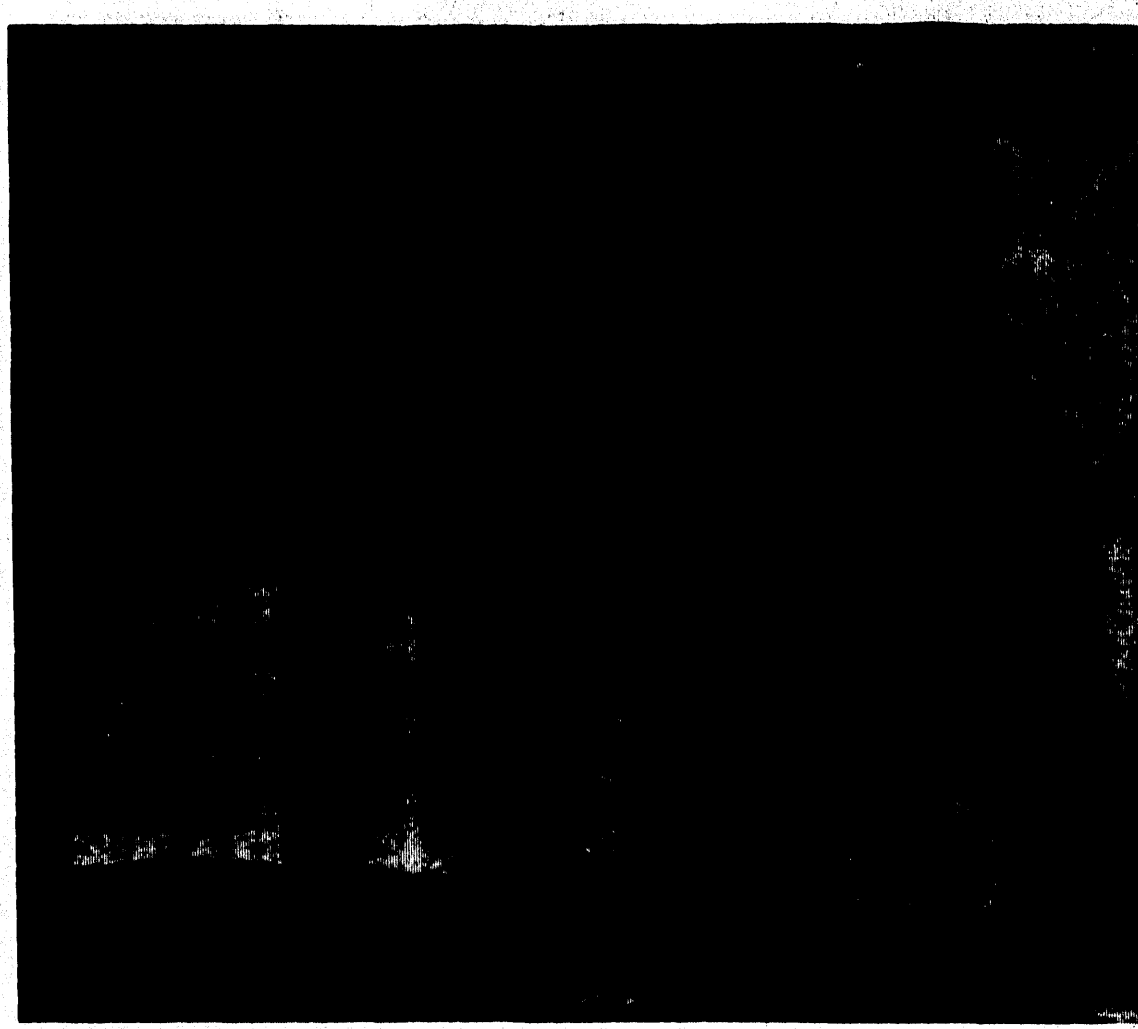

Johnson conceded that student deferments have led to inequities because many have been able to parlay temporary deferments into permanent exemptions.

File Up Deferments

As he put it: "Deferred for undergraduate work, deferred further to pursue graduate study and then deferred even beyond that for fatherhood or occupational reasons, some young men have managed to pile deferment on deferment until they passed the normal cut-off point for induction."

He said elimination of many grounds for deferment will halt this situation. And he said there will be new, tougher but unspecified rules for all types of deferments, including student deferments.

Johnson also promised to

Romney Confident Of Income Tax Passage

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today he is encouraged by reports from legislative leaders regarding his tax program and believes "we're going to get tax reform."

Romney told a news conference that he has "a generally good picture of the situation although it isn't final yet."

"I'm generally encouraged and the likely outlook is we're going to get tax reform," Romney last month recommended a $1.15 billion budget for 1967-68 and asked for passage of the state's first income tax to meet it.

The tax package recommended by the governor would include a 2½ per cent tax on personal income, 5 per cent on corporations and 8 per cent on financial institutions.

Can Meet Deadline

Romney, who said the program must be approved by April 1 in order for it to take effect in time to meet increased spending needs, told newsmen he still is confident that the deadline can be met.

"We should know around April 1 whether or not we will get tax reform and a budget as I recommended or tax reform and some modifications budget-wise," Romney said.

Romney, who said he will not approve additional spending without tax reform, said he plans to work closely with legislative leaders "so I can know if we can provide reform or cut back to existing levels of revenue."

Alternatives

The governor said he sees only three alternatives:

1. Enactment of his program as recommended.

2. Reform coupled with somewhat greater support for elementary and secondary education.

3. A cutback to the level of existing revenue.

Sets Bar Afire

DETROIT (AP) — Police are searching for a disgruntled customer who set the Subway Bar afire Sunday shortly after he was ejected by owner Harry Kardonsky, 60. Witnesses told police a man answering the customer's description returned to the bar with a two-gallon can of gasoline, poured it on the bar, and set it afire. No one was injured and damage was minor, police said.

"I've made it perfectly clear that what I've recommended is basically sound," Romney said.

"But I have remained open to modifications as long as appropriations do not exceed available revenue."

Romney's budget has come under fire from education leaders who say it does not provide enough to meet increasing costs caused by expanding enrollments.

Fire Destroys Three Stores At Petoskey

PETOSKEY (AP) — Firemen fought for five hours before they managed to control a blaze that threatened to destroy the entire downtown section of this Northwest Lower Michigan resort town.

Three buildings were gutted and a fourth damaged before the fire was put out Sunday evening.

Firemen reported no deaths, but said that several people were hurt by flying glass in the $100,000 fire.

Petoskey firemen called in help from the neighboring communities of Bear Creek, Harbor Springs, and Charlevoix.

The three buildings destroyed were McElliott's Five and Dime Store, Gilday Drugs, and GILC TV Co.'s 14 components, which supply Petoskey's television reception.

A Woolworth store suffered smoke and fire damage. Firemen said the blaze threatened a J.C. Penney department store and a Sears catalog office before they brought it under control.

A high school student reported the fire in the late afternoon when he saw smoke pouring out of the McElliott's store.

Police said the fire apparently started in the basement of the store. Its cause was not immediately known.

Drowns Sunday

DEARBORN (AP) — Richard Nash, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nash of Detroit, drowned Sunday in the Rouge River after falling through the ice near the shore. His body was recovered.

The remainder of the returns from overseas districts, will not be in for another day.

If the voting in the second round next Sunday also duplicates the 1962 pattern, the Gaullists will be assured of a majority similar to their 24-member margin in the outgoing Parliament.

De Gaulle had appealed for another majority to continue the stability his rule brought to France.

Only 73 seats in the new Assembly were decided in the first round of voting. Sixty-two went to Gaullists. A majority was necessary to win while in the runoff the high man will be elected.

Governor-General Of Canada Dies

OTTAWA (AP) — Georges Philias Vanier, Canada's first French-Canadian and Roman Catholic governor general, died of heart failure Sunday at 78. He was the nation's second native head of state.

Queen Elizabeth II named the distinguished soldier and diplomat to be her representative in Canada in 1959. The appointment was hailed as a milestone in Canadian unity.

Vanier's body, in a closed coffin, will lie in the Senate chamber for two days. A state funeral will be held Wednesday morning in the Roman Catholic Basilica.

BOWIE, Md., (AP) — Dr. Samuel L. Myers, who resigned from a $23,015-a-year position in the State Department will be paid $17,250 annually as president of Bowie State College.

Report Michigan National Guard To Be Scrapped

LANSING (AP) — Reports that Michigan's 46th National Guard Infantry Division is headed for the scrapheap drew a cool response today from high ranking officers.

"It's the same old story, said Maj. Gen. Cecil Simmons, division commander. "They want to cut down the Guard. They've tried it in the past, and they're still trying."

The 46th Division was reported to be one of 15 National Guard divisions averaging about 50 per cent of recommended combat strength that may be phased out.

"I think the low-priority Guard divisions are going," a top National Guard officer said in Washington.

The proposal to phase out the units is in line with Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's position that the existence of Guard and reserve divisions is justified only if they are able to back up the regular forces on short notice.

Gen. Simmons said he has not been notified officially of any reorganization plan for his division.

Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnippe, Michigan's adjutant general, said: "It sounds like the Pentagon. McNamara tried the same thing two years ago. Now they're repeating the effort. They'll make the attempt, but they'll have to get it through Congress."

Roger Babson Dies In Florida

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP) — Roger Ward Babson, internationally prominent founder of Babson's Reports Inc. and one of the few financial leaders to predict the 1929 depression, is dead at 91.

A resident of Wellesley, Mass., where he founded the Babson Educational Institute to train young men in business and finance, he died of natural causes Sunday night at his winter home in Lake Wales.

Lake Wales also is the site of Babson Park, a village and business research facility he established to train women in finance and practical economics.

He began Babson's Reports, a statistical service which now has representatives in more than 100 cities in the United States, Canada and abroad, in 1903 at Wellesley with eight clients who paid $12.50 a month.

On Sept. 5, 1929, when the New York stock market hit record highs and bullish brokers forecast continued prosperity, Babson predicted the market crash which came Oct. 29.

Babson was born in Gloucester, Mass., July 6, 1875, and was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1898, radar contact with the plane.

U.S. Jets In Mistake Raid

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. military command acknowledged today that two U.S. Air Force Phantom jets mistakenly bombed the refugee-crammed village of Lan Vei last Thursday but still gave no explanation for the mistake.

The raid killed at least 100 Vietnamese civilians and wounded 175 others, according to unofficial accounts from the village in the northwest corner of South Vietnam near the Laotian border.

The U.S. Command said 88 villagers were killed, 19 were missing and 176 were injured. It was the worst such accidental bombing of the war.

The U.S. Command said one bomb from the F4 Phantom hit a nearby U.S. Army Special Forces camp, causing light damage but no American casualties.

The planes were identified through flight schedules and bomb fragments. U.S. spokesmen had said until today the planes were believed American or South Vietnamese but had refused to rule out the possibility that they were from North Vietnam.

A U.S. spokesman said he had no explanation of the attack. The Air Force presumably will appoint a board to investigate the raid and determine responsibility for it, but the spokesman said he did not know whether the board had been appointed yet.

Reject Unions

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — Employees of Detroit Osteopathic Hospital in this Detroit suburb have turned down union representation. Both the Building Service Employees International, Local 79, and the Clerical, Professional and Technical Employees, Local 417, sought to represent the employees, who voted against union affiliation 285-105.

My Fair Lady Fashions Prelude To Spring

By JANET MARTIN

With a lovely spring like day as a setting, the 14th annual Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club Style Show was staged in Escanaba yesterday afternoon.

Appropriately titled, "My Fair Lady Fashions", the affair was held at the Escanaba Area Auditorium, beginning at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The attractive models, both children and adults displayed the very latest in children's wear (lots to teens category), town and country, coats and ensembles, and the ever popular after five and evening wear. This year there were fewer clothing categories which made for a much smoother and fluent show.

Bridal Scene

Closing the fashion show was the traditional bridal party scene. The lovely bride was Jane Brien and she was attended by Joan Krebs and Penny Johnson. In the role of the bridegroom was Don Nyquist and groomsmen were Tom Plouff and Bob Dufresne. Irma Greis was stunning as the mother of the bride.

A new feature this year was the showing of several wigs and wigs by the models, courtesy of Hurley's Hair Fashions, Pavlick's Beauty Shop and Phil's Salon of Beauty.

Mrs. James Van Horn, president of the Newcomers Club, wearing fashions from the Mata Brown Shoppe, welcomed the showgoers and descriptive commentary was handled very ably by Mr. and Mrs. James Makens.

Presented Courtesy

Mrs. Nora Jensen, Welcome Wagon hostess, was presented a lovely orchid corsage. Organ music was provided by Bill VanHatten on a Hammond organ, courtesy of the Delta Music Center.

Dessert and coffee was served in the commons area during a 20 minute intermission following the Town and Country showings. Soloists during the style show were Joan Lankford and Ed O'Leary.

In keeping with the spring theme, samples of the latest spring styles in footwear were also on display in the commons area.

Cooperating with the Newcomers Club in sponsoring the very successful 1967 fashion revue were, Anderson - Bloom Men's Wear, The Fair Store, Four Seasons, Gartner's, The Mata Brown Shoppe, Montgomerie Ward, The Morrison Shop, J. C. Penny's, Peterson's Shoes, Robert's Shoes, Jerry's Sport Shop.

LEADING OFF THE little darlings of the Newcomers Club Fashion Show are Lori and Julie LeGault (left). They are wearing identical cotton dresses in pink and blue with splashy flowers on a white background. They are styled with softly gathered yokes and the solid color collars are trimmed in lace. Their accessories are white roller hats, black patent purses and shoes. Gregg Bessie, center, models the mod look in trousers featuring a wide brown leather belt. The jacket is of brown corduroy with slit pockets and brass buttons. His shoes are Jumping Jacks. Kelly Blomch, right, wears a pink wool coat styled with a four point collar, two pockets and pearl button trim. Her green and pink polka dot dress has a colored petticoat attached at the neckline. A part straw hat and purse in white and white shoes complete the "young lady" look." (Daily-Press Photos)

B. Lindenthal, Joseph Bailey Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Lindenthal, 1446 La Linda Drive, Lake San Marcos, Calif., recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Dr. Joseph John Bailey of San Diego. The Lindenthals are former residents of Escanaba.

Miss Lindenthal is a graduate of Holy Name High School, the College of St. Catherine, St. Paul, Minn., and the University of Michigan. She is presently an assistant professor of nursing at San Diego State College.

Dr. Bailey is the son of Mr. Joseph J. Bailey of Meridian, Miss., and the late Mr. Bailey. He is a graduate of Mississippi State University, Starkville, Miss., and the University of Geneva, Geneva, Switzerland.

The wedding will take place June 10 at St. Charles Borromeo Church in San Diego.

Eskymos Repeat As Class A Cage Champ

Redmen Easy Victims In U.P. Title Clash

MARQUETTE — The Escanaba Eskymos barely worked up a good sweat in a 77-50 romp over Marquette for the Upper Peninsula Class A district championship at the Northern Michigan University field-house Saturday night.

Coach Harold Johnson's Great Northern Conference champs plucked their third straight U.P. crown and fifth in seven years with the greatest of ease.

It was a combination of torrid shooting, awesome rebounding and a brilliant ball handling performance by sophomore guard Dan Mylander that buried the hapless Redmen.

The Eskymos were right at home on the spacious field-house floor, clicking on 31 of their 58 shots for better than 50 percent.

It was all Escanaba under the boards as Bob Myrvall, Dave Nyquist and Jim Boyle dominated the rebounds. The tall Eskey trio snatched 36 missed shots and the Eskymos had 49 as a team while limiting Marquette to 25.

Mylander turned in one of his most impressive performances, drawing Marquette players outside and feeding sure layups to Miller, Myrvall and Nyquist. The 5 foot 11 inch playmaker also drove for five field goals and added a pair of free throws to contribute 12 points to Escanaba's 17th victory in 19 starts.

Miller Hits 25

Paul Miller, most productive scorer in Escanaba basketball history, found the range after a slow start and finished with 25 points to lead both teams on the scoreboard. That boosted his season total to 493 and his career mark to 1,055.

Nyquist matched Mylander with a dozen points and Myrvall came up with 17 to go with his game-high 14 rebounds.

Marquette was never in the game after an early 3-3 deadlock as the Eskymos hustled to a 20-6 lead in the first quarter and spread it to 36-19 at halftime.

Marquette managed only 18 of 64 field goals but tossed in 14 of 17 from the free throw line. The Eskymos added 15 of 24 attempts from the charity stripe.

Turning in a solid performance in a reserve role for the Eskymos was Bernie Larson, 6 foot 4 inch senior, with two buckets and three free throws for seven points.

The victory was practically a repeat performance of an earlier meeting of the teams, in the regular season when Escanaba won by a 77-51 margin.

The Eskymos will advance to regional competition at Grand Rapids this week. Other district champions in the tournament will be Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills and Grand Rapids Central Hills, Grand Rapids West Catholic.

LARRY MCTIVER, Newberry's only player over 6 feet tall, goes up to snare a rebound from among the Gladstone Braves in Saturday night's Class B district tournament finale at Holy Name. Other players in action are Dennis Robinson of Newberry (No. 40) and Gladstone's Mark Stupak (15), John Watson (33), Steve Nelson (21) and Dennis Anderson (31). (Daily Press Photo)

Newberry's Late Freeze Beats Gladstone Braves For Class B Cage Crown

"Control the ball," Coach Jim Depew told his Newberry Indians midway in the fourth quarter of their Class B district tournament title game with Gladstone Saturday night at Holy Name.

The hustling Newberry cagers followed orders with unbelievable success and defeated Gladstone 55-47 to earn their second straight trip to the Upper Peninsula regionals at Northern Michigan University this week.

Newberry allowed Gladstone only one shot at the bucket in the final four minutes of the game. That came with 20 seconds left on the clock and the outcome had been decided long before.

Coach Bill Wood's Braves, playing shorthanded after three members of the squad were dismissed for violating training rules on the final weekend of the regular season, gave the favored Indians a run for their money.

Third Quarter Rally Ahead 15-14 at the end of the first frame and trailing 32-23 at halftime, Gladstone stormed back in the third period as Mark Stupak and John Watson began finding the bucket. The Braves narrowed their deficit to two points late in the period and three at the end of the frame, 44-41.

A pair of fast break layups by Randy Planck and Dennis Robinson in the first 30 seconds of the fourth quarter put Newberry in front by a 48-41 margin. Gladstone cut it to five as Dennis Anderson and Mark Weber connected on free throws.

The Indians went into a semi-control game and ran off a minute on the clock before Planck drove in for a layup to make it 50-43 with 5:36 to go. Gladstone's Steve Nelson hit a jumper with 4:04 remaining and that was Gladstone's last shot until Stupak potted a field goal with 20 seconds left.

The Indians ran off a minute and a half without shooting, lost the ball on a bad pass but forced the Braves to throw it away with a tight press. Newberry was fouled twice in the next minute of action, missed both free throw attempts but got the rebound in both cases and continued to hold the ball until there were only 46 seconds left. At that point Robinson was fouled and hit both ends of a 1-and-1 to make it 52-45.

Another Gladstone turnover gave the Indians the ball seconds later and Robinson was fouled again. The 5 foot 7 inch guard repeated with two free throws to spread the margin to 53-45 with 33 seconds left.

Stupak finally got off Gladstone's field goal attempt and hit the target, but it was too late to help. Newberry closed out the scoring with Mike Perry tossing in two gift shots in the final five seconds.

Win With Free Throws Newberry's waiting game paid off as the Braves were forced to come out for the ball. The Indians cashed in on 21 of 27 free throw opportunities to make up for a three goal deficit from the field. The Braves hit 20 buckets to Newberry's 17, but the Gladstone players made only 7 of 16 from the gift line.

Planck led three Indians in double figures with 18 points. Stupak paced Gladstone with 15 while Watson added 14 and Nelson 11.

Newberry will carry a 15-4 record into the regional tournament this week. Gladstone ended the season with an 8-10 mark.

Four Top-Rated Prep Cage Teams Survive District Tourney Games

By The Associated Press The four top-rated teams in the final Associated Press high school basketball poll still are present and accounted for as the state tournament moves into the regionals.

Detroit Northwestern won its district Saturday in Class A regional play Tuesday. South Haven beat Paw Paw 44-32 Saturday in Class B. L'Anse, defending champion and top rated in Class C, won its district Thursday. Even, the favorite in Class D, beat Ironwood St. Ambrose 64-44 Saturday.

Birmingham Groves, the second ranked Class A team, and Muskegon Heights, ranked third, won their district titles Thursday.

Class B, downed Marine City 82-39. Leslie, second rated in Class C, beat Williamston 77-72. Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, No. 3, beat Shepherd 62-32.

Flint St. Matthew, ranked second in Class D, rolled past Flint St. Mary 82-52.

Grand Rapids East Christian, the defending Class B titlist, still is in the running. Ferndale, the defending Class A champion, and Covert, last year's Class D winner, both fell out in the district play.

Pershing lost to Detroit Northwestern 69-61 for the Detroit public school championship and is eager for revenge on Coach Fred Snowden's crew.

Kennedy McIntosh, an all-star last year, scored 26 points as South Haven beat Paw Paw and ran its record to 20-0.

Willie Tabb led Albion with 21 points as his team ran over Battle Creek Pennfield.

Marysville was led by Dennis Weymouth's 27 points as it beat Memphis in Class B. Ron Goodin chipped in 22 points for Marysville.

Dave Mumby scored four free throws in the last minute and totaled 25 points as L'Anse beat Williamston in Class C. Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart led all the way in beating Shepherd. Mike Hackett got 21 points and Mick Matzel 19.

Even ran its record to 19-1 by beating Ironwood St. Ambrose. Terry Conrad, Even's 6-6 center, scored 20 points. Flint St. Matthew remained undefeated in beating St. Mary. Four St. Matthew players scored in the double figures, led by Bob Bourdieu with 19 points.

STEPHENSON — Stephenson stunned favored Marquette Bishop Baraga, 78-51, to emerge as Class C district tournament champion here Saturday night.

Winner of only four games in the regular season, Coach Gus Lord's cagers fashioned two upsets to come through the district. They spilled Norway, 63-59, in the semifinals.

Marquette Baraga was in the game only momentarily, playing the Eagles to a 7-7 tie before Bruce Weng connected on a three-point play to send his club winding away. It was 18-9 at the end of the quarter and 40-21 at halftime.

Weng led Stephenson to its sixth victory in 19 starts with 30 points while Gus Lord Jr. and Ken Kline chipped in with 10 apiece.

Marquette Baraga closed out the season with a final 7-12 record.

Pistons Limit Wilt To 10 But Still Can't Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Detroit held Philadelphia's superstar Wilt Chamberlain to a season low of 10 points Sunday night, but the 76ers turned on the steam and trounced the Pistons 131-106 in National Basketball Association play.

Chicago downed Cincinnati 113-106. New York defeated San Francisco 115-108. St. Louis walloped Baltimore 132-103 and Boston whipped Los Angeles 130-105 in other NBA action.

Hall Greer scored 31 points, 23 in the first half, to lead the 76ers to victory.

Detroit led through most of the first quarter until Greer hit a jumper with 17 seconds left to put the 76ers in front 28-27. Chamberlain added a basket with five seconds left in the first quarter and Philadelphia never lost its lead.

Pistons' Player — Coach Dave DeBusschere hit a high of 18 and Dave Bing added 17.

The Chicago-Cincinnati game was tied six times in the final quarter — but the Bulls went ahead to stay on a jump shot by Irwin Mueller.

Guy Rodgers led the Bulls with 26 and Bob Boozer contributed 26. Oscar Robertson topped Cincinnati with 37 points.

San Francisco's leading scorer Rick Barry stubbed his thumb and got only seven points as the Warriors went down to Giants had sidelined favored Trenary in the tournament opener.

Rapid River vaulted to an early lead and forced the Yellowjackets to come after them.

Allan Pasi, a 5 foot 10 inch junior guard, was the Rocket who launched Rapid River's title bid in the early going. Pasi hit three straight shots from the field in the first quarter and Tom Novak flipped in two buckets and a free throw as Rapid River moved out to a 13-7 lead.

Coach Verne Nelson's cagers, connecting on only three of 10 shots in the first frame, were unable to find the range and trailed by a 27-16 margin at halftime. Greg Viau, Rapid River's 6 foot 4 inch senior, contributed six points in the second quarter.

The Yellowjackets managed to narrow their deficit to seven points at one stage in the third period but were never able to challenge the Rockets.

Rapid River, rebounding well on both boards, hit on 21 of 56 shots from the field and six of 13 from the line. Perkins took only 34 shots in the game and connected on 14, adding 11 of 17 from the stripe.

Novak and Pasi paced Rapid River in scoring with 13 points apiece while Viau tossed in 10. Gene Bezzi 4 and Klint Safford 8 as McGovern went all the way with his five starters.

Gary Simonsen, 6 foot 3 inch Perkins senior, took game scoring honors with 14 points and Art VanDamme added 10.

The victory sends Rapid River into the Class D regional at St. Ignace this week with a 10-10 record. Perkins closed the books on the season with an 8-12 mark.

Redskins Win Cage Crown In Class D

POWERS — SPALDING — Coach Don Hill's Hermansville Redskins hurdled the final obstacle in their path to the Class D regional at Northern Michigan University by disposing of Felch, 89-69, in the finals of the district tournament here Saturday night.

The Big Seven Conference champs left no doubt of the outcome of the title tilt after the first few minutes of action. Felch jumped out to a fast 6-1 lead but the Redskins muscled their way into an early tie and then showed who was boss with a 20-13 lead at the end of the initial period.

Clicking in high gear with scoring ace Randy Fochesato off the sick list, the Redskins fired at a torrid clip in the first half to take a commanding 48-32 lead into the intermission. The Redskins were never able to recover and slipped farther behind in the two remaining periods.

The district tournament championship, second in three years for Hermansville, follows a highly successful regular season in which the Redskins captured the Big Seven Conference crown and compiled an overall 15-4 record. A semifinal victory over Powers-Spalding in the district accounts for Hermansville's 17-4 record entering the regional tournament this week.

Hermansville flashed a balanced attack that produced four double figure scorers, headed by Fochesato with 26 points. Doug LaCourcier chipped in 21. Len Wellington 20 and Mike Raiche 12.

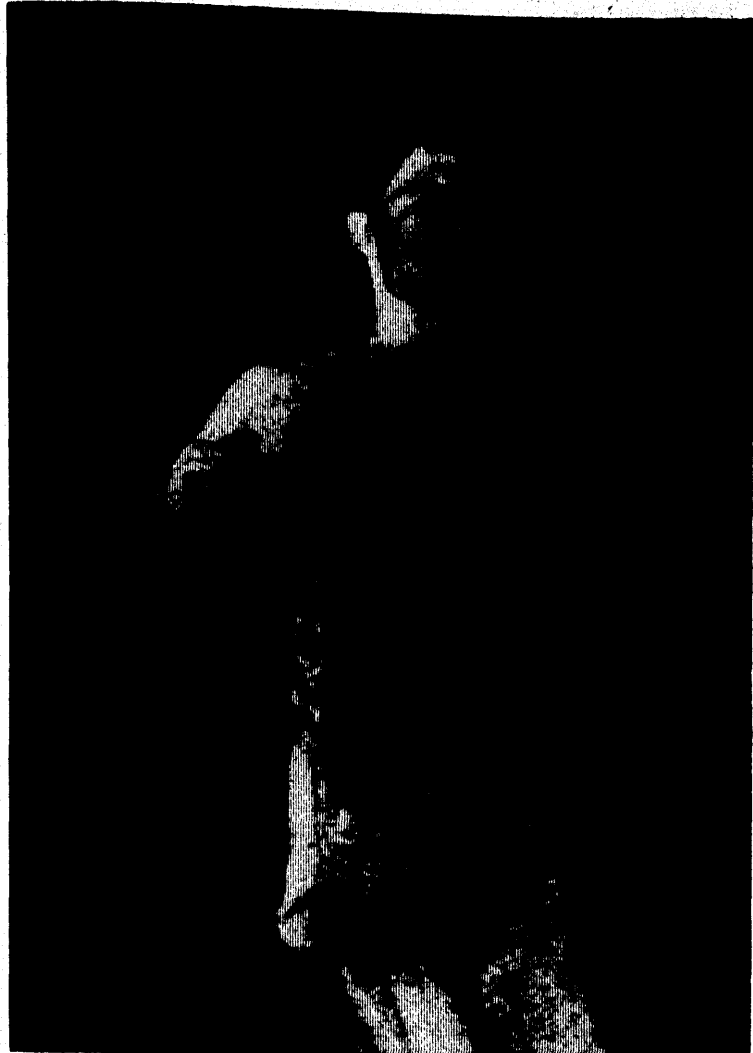

The Redskins, who had defeated Felch by comfortable 19 and 26 point margins during the regular season, connected on 31 of 74 shots from the field and added 27 of 35 from the free throw line. Coach Carl Lamin's Foresters were only four field goals off Hermansville's pace, but settled for 16 of 26 from the charity stripe.

Fochesato, who again saw limited action following recovery from an illness that sidelined him for the final three games of the regular campaign, boosted his season scoring total to 487 points.

Felch had three players in double scoring figures, headed by Wayne Beauchamp with 18 points. The Foresters finished the season with a record of 12 victories against 10 defeats.

JIM RYUN, Kansas University's great mile, arrives at the finish of the mile in the Big Eight meet with a new world record time of 3:58.8 for a 12-lap track. (AP Wire-photo)

Ryun Sets New Indoor Record For Mile Event

By The Associated Press
Tracy Smith got a taste of glory before disappearing into the U.S. Army and Jim Ryun showed he can turn on the speed about as he pleases before meeting what may be his biggest test in several years.

Smith, who recently dropped out of Oregon State University and plans to go into the service, surprised everybody at the AAU championships in Oakland— including himself—Saturday when he set an indoor record in the three mile with a time of 13:16.2.

And Ryun, the University of Kansas sophomore who is world record holder in the mile, ran the fastest indoor mile of the season, 3:58.8, at the Big Eight championships at Kansas City.

Smith, 21, of Arcadia, Calif., had help on his way to breaking Ron Clarke's indoor mark of 13:18.4. He took the lead from Oscar Moore of Southern Illinois University with three laps to go.

The pace had been so fast that even though Moore finished six seconds behind Smith, his time, 13:22.2 was the third fastest ever recorded indoors. And Van Nelson of St. Cloud, Minn., State was third in 13:23.9, fourth best indoor clocking.

"I didn't even know I had a chance for the record," Smith said later. "I wish they had announced the time. I wondered why the crowd was cheering and then I began to see people's eyes popping out alongside the track."

There were no eyes popping at Ryun's performance. Sub-4 minute miles from the 19-year-old whose world record is 3:51.3 are commonplace.

Still, Ryun has passed up most of the big indoor meets this winter to concentrate on collegiate competition and was never really pressed to win until Saturday.

Balfanz Is Far Off Best Jump

OSLO, Norway (AP) — American ski jumpers came up short again in competition against Europe's best at the 7th Holmenkollen jumping classic.

Bjorn Wirkola and Bent Tomum gave Norway a 1-2 finish in the event Sunday while the best American effort was turned in by John Balfanz of Minneapolis, who placed 45th with leaps of 237 and 236 feet.

A crowd of 70,000 — including King Olaf, Prince Harald and Princess Astrid of Norway — saw Wirkola, a two-time world champion, soar 271 and 269 feet and earn 211.1 points for distance and style. Tomum, a junior, took second place with 201.3 points on jumps of 269 and 270 feet.

Max Golser of Austria was third with 201.8 points and had the longest jump of the day — 274 feet.

Franz Keller of West Germany took the combined title, based on the jumping event and Saturday's 15-kilometer cross country race, with 258.25 points. John Bower of Auburn, Maine, finished 12th in the combined standings.

Lucky Winner Will Meet Bruins In Tourney Game

By The Associated Press
Brigham Young and Wyoming are going to play a basketball game in Salt Lake City Saturday in which there may not be a winner.

The loser has no place to go but home. The winner, that is, the one with the highest score, has the unenviable task of playing UCLA in its first outing in the NCAA basketball championships.

The game, to select the Western Athletic Conference representative, is one of five which will determine representatives to the NCAA's far-flung tournament.

But none of the teams in the two major postseason tournaments have a problem as large as that faced by the survivor of the BYU-Wyoming playoff, who must play unbeaten and top-ranked UCLA in a regional sem-final at Corvallis, Ore. The mighty Bruins, paced, of course, by 7-foot-1 sophomore superstar Lew Alcindor, stormed to a 108-66 victory over California at Berkeley Saturday night. Alcindor scored 30 points.

That pushed their record to 25-0 for the season, and 29 in a row over two years. They are top-heavy favorites to win it all, including the showdown in Louisville, Ky., March 25. They have one more regular-season game, at home Saturday against Southern California.

Both Are 3-3
The Wyoming-BYU playoff was set up last weekend when Wyoming came from 12 points back and upset New Mexico 65-64 at Albuquerque and gained a first-place tie with BYU in the WAC. Each has an 8-2 conference record.

BYU wound up with a 79-58 decision over Arizona. BYU has a 14-9 overall record, Wyoming 13-13.

Tennessee, 20-5, can clinch the Southeastern Conference title and an NCAA spot tonight by beating Mississippi State on the road. The Vols clinched at least a tie Saturday when Ron Williams' 50 points led an 87-60 rout of Louisiana State.

Vanderbilt stayed one game back by routing Kentucky 110-84. Kansas, 20-3 and No. 4 in the nation, can clinch the Big Eight title and an NCAA spot tonight by beating Colorado. The Jayhawks clinched at least a share of the crown Saturday with a 64-57 decision over Nebraska.

Here's the situation in the other conference races still undecided in which the winner goes to the NCAA:

Big Ten — Indiana was upset by Illinois 80-70 and dropped into a first place tie with Michigan State, 75-71 victory over Purdue. Indiana and Michigan State are 6-4, followed by Iowa, Wisconsin and Northwestern, each 7-3. The league champ probably won't be known until this weekend's final regular season games.

Atlantic Coast — A conference tournament this weekend determines the league champion, North Carolina No. 3 nationally and 21-4, drew the top seed after a 82-79 decision over arch-rival Duke.

The NCAA's first round action opens Saturday at Blacksburg, Va., Kingston, R.I., Lexington, Ky. and Fort Collins, Colo., with survivors going on to the regional semifinals March 17 at Corvallis, College Park, Md., Evanston, Ill., and Lawrence, Kan. UCLA, Louisville, 23-3, Pacific, 21-3 and Southern Methodist, 19-5, have first round byes, as do the eventual winners in the WAC, Southeastern, Big Ten, Big Eight and Atlantic Coast.

Illinois Appeal Is Turned Down Over Weekend

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — The University of Illinois has 11 days left to comply with the Big Ten ultimatum — fire three coaches or show cause why its conference membership should not be suspended or terminated.

Illinois was dealt two major setbacks over the weekend by Big Ten faculty representatives meeting in Chicago.

The faculty representatives upheld the previous decision of conference athletic directors to fire football coach Pete Elliott, basketball coach Harry Combes and assistant coach Howie Braun.

Then the faculty men lowered the boom on athletes involved in the slush fund scandal which was revealed last December when five Illinois players were ruled permanently ineligible.

Two others were given one-year suspensions, while six unidentified football players and freshman basketball player Randy Crews were restored to eligibility because the help they received from the $21,000 fund was considered trivial.

Although failing in its appeal Friday, Illinois kept alive its hopes of saving the jobs of the three coaches.

Illinois has one more appeal, at which time it must show cause why the three coaches shouldn't be fired or face the possibility of expulsion from the Big Ten.

Illinois has until March 17 to serve notice on the show cause appeal. After that a mutual date will be set for the hearing.

Illinois can bypass the entire matter by firing the three coaches, a move Dr. David Henry, university president, has indicated he has not considered.

The five players who were declared permanently ineligible were halfback Cyril Pinder, basketball stars Rich Jones and Ron Dunlap and freshman griders Derek Faison and Bob Stephens.

Those given one-year suspensions were Steve Kuberski, a sophomore basketball reserve, and Oscar Polite, freshman football tackle.

There appears to be no doubt that Illinois will take advantage of the show cause appeal. Neither is there any indication the three coaches might resign, although Combes has stated he would resign rather than see Illinois drop from the Big Ten.

The gloom which settled over the campus following the week-end decisions in Chicago apparently reflects in Illinois' athletic efforts in Big Ten winter championships.

Illinois finished ninth in track, ninth in wrestling, seventh in swimming and fourth in gymnastics. Favored to win its fourth straight fencing title, Illinois finished second to Wisconsin.

Latest Racial Barrier To Fall: Georgia Tech Now Recruiting Negroes

ATLANTA (AP) — Racial barriers which have kept Negroes out of college athletics in Dixie are continuing to crumble, with Georgia Tech joining the growing list of Southern schools recruiting Negro athletes.

However, the whites only sign still is up unofficially in athletics at many Southern campuses despite integration of high school sports in most of Dixie.

Georgia Tech's decision to actively recruit Negroes was disclosed Saturday after two all-Negro teams had battled into the finals of the former all-white Georgia high school basketball championship, with Negroes also playing on other teams in the tournament.

Athletic Director Bobby Dodd said Georgia Tech "will recruit any athlete we feel is good enough both athletically and in school," and he said a Negro football player was offered an athletic grant but failed to meet the school's stiff scholastic requirements.

Several other major colleges in the South have Negroes on their freshman teams or are recruiting Negroes this winter.

Vanderbilt has two Negroes on its football team, including standout Perry Wallace, who rooms with a white athlete. Two Negroes on Kentucky's freshman football team last fall are expected to become the first of their race to play football in the Southeastern Conference next fall.

Negroes have never competed in any sport on a varsity level in the SEC except baseball, where Tulane's Steve Martin played conference rivals last spring before the Green Wave dropped out of the league.

Tennessee has been wooing a Negro football standout from South Carolina this winter, and Louisiana State has expressed interest in signing a Negro prep basketball star from New Orleans.

Miami recently signed its first Negro to a football grant, and Negroes have gone out on their own for sports at Georgia and Florida, although none was given an athletic grant and neither school is actively recruiting Negroes.

Alabama Athletic Director Paul (Bear) Bryant, who also coaches football, told a national television audience last fall that segregation no longer is a problem for the Crimson Tide, but no Negroes have ever been on athletic teams there, and there are no plans now to recruit them.

Auburn also is not pursuing Negroes, and neither is Mississippi State or Mississippi, where Coach Johnny Vaught said last fall he would not be around when a Negro was found good enough to play football at Ole Miss.

Southeastern Conference officials say they expect integration to come quietly next year in football and basketball, and the subject never was officially discussed at a recent league meeting.

However, a national magazine said Mississippi canceled two freshman basketball games against Vanderbilt because of the Commodore's Negroes.

Ole Miss officials said the cancellation came because of travel problems, and pointed out they have been playing football teams with Negro players.

Wolverines Could Hand Spartans Conference Cage Crown Tonight

By The Associated Press
Michigan could just about hand Michigan State the Big Ten basketball championship tonight.

Michigan State and Indiana are tied at 8-4 and Michigan's spotty Wolverines play the Hoosiers at Bloomington tonight. A Michigan victory combined with a Michigan State triumph at Minnesota tonight would give the Spartans first place.

The Big Ten wrapup play Saturday with Northwestern at Michigan State, Purdue at Indiana and Iowa at Michigan.

Other games tonight put Illinois at Ohio State and Northwestern at Purdue. Iowa is at Wisconsin Tuesday night.

Center Matt Aitch scored 31 points as Michigan State trimmed Purdue 75-71 Saturday. Illinois upset Indiana 80-70. Wisconsin nipped Michigan 80-79 in a game at Detroit's Cobo Arena and lowly Minnesota dumped Northwestern 66-64.

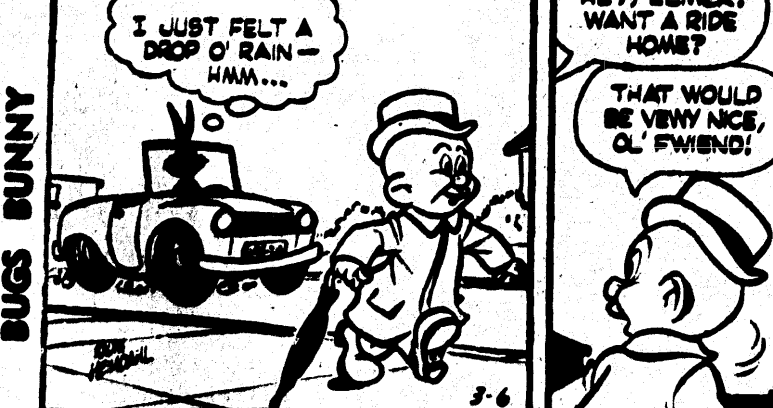

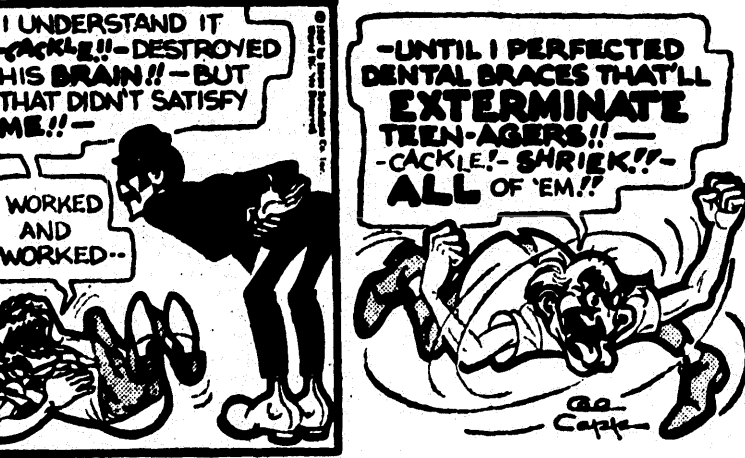

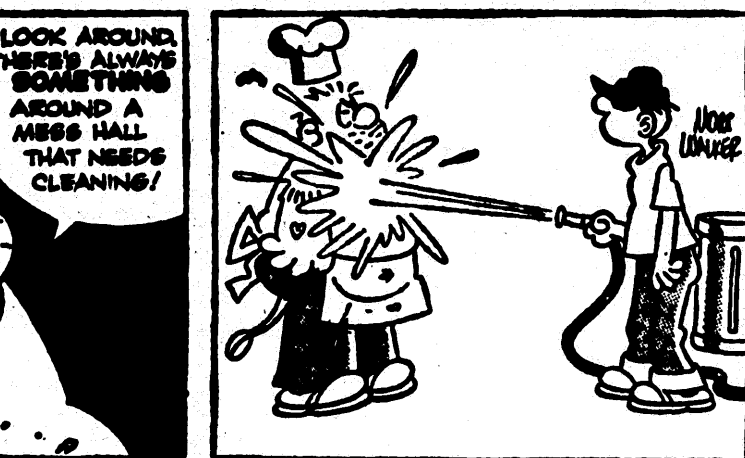

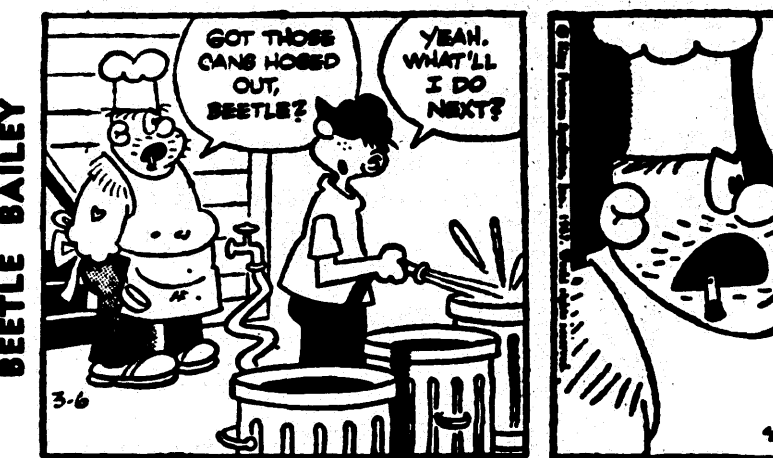

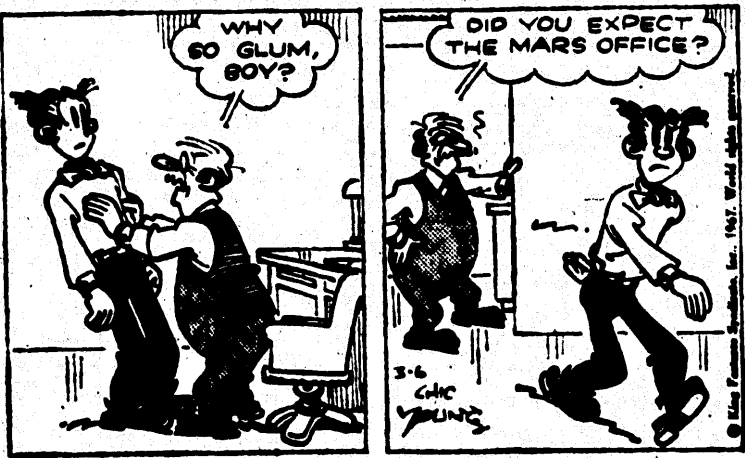

John Bailey chipped in 17 points for MSU as the Spartans came from behind to win.

Michigan State Coach John Benington said the Boilermakers were so fast "they almost ran us out of the place early in the game. Aitch has been playing real well after a long cold stretch early in the year — he came back tremendously."

Purdue Coach George King, who once stormed onto the floor to protest the officiating and drew a technical foul, bemoaned his action afterward.

Ski Events Highlight Carnival

THE GLADSTONE SKI park was buzzing with activity Sunday for the final events of the Winter Sports Carnival. About 75 youngsters competed in the two-day program of downhill and slalom races and another 11 finished the 3.9 mile cross country run. Prizes and ribbons for winners in the races will be awarded at the annual Ski Club banquet. Date of the banquet will be announced later. At left, a crowd of parents and skiers gathers at the base of the slalom run to watch competition Sunday. At right, skis jam the ski rack outside the clubhouse. Winter Carnival Queen Joanne Marshall, at rear with crown on her head, is visible preparing for run on the slopes. (Daily Press Photos)

Lee Smits Reminisces

Spring Preparing Entry

By LEE SMITS

In our town, many years ago, there was no Community Chest, no Children's Aid, no Humane Society. Skunk Stiles did what he could to make up for the lack. He took into his home infants that no one else wanted, and no lonely dog or cat was ever turned away from his door.

In a medium-sized covered wagon, drawn by an aged mule and a woolly pony — both fat and sassy — the wagon packed with youngsters and trailed by a pack of assorted dogs — the Stiles outfit left town at the fall end of winter to find a patch of high ground in a swamp, on a creek bank. Here, all hands, aided by dogs, took up the pursuit of amorous skunks.

Returning to town, the wagon festooned with skunk pelts the Stiles dogs were followed and assailed by town dogs, apparently motivated by snobbery, envy and malice. They engaged the Stiles dogs in combat, losing almost always because the Stiles dogs were hairy and fit and fought as a unit. We envied the foundlings taken in by the Stiles family. They attended school fitfully, were often sent home because of their association with skunks and because they brought insects with them. Theirs was a way of life we craved.

As skunks emerged to wander on misty nights, seeking romance, great horned owls were nesting, fox, coyote and wolves. If any, are wooing; the grand entrance of spring is in preparation behind the scenes. Horned larks will sometimes be nesting under a layer of snow. The first redhead ducks are due along the Detroit river to join the hardy stragglers who winter in Michigan — bluebill, mallard, black duck, canvasback, not to mention mergansers and golden-eye who care nothing about the weather.

Canada geese move northward with the precision of seasoned troops, keeping up with the advance of thawing temperatures, open water.

Crows begin to leave their wintering grounds, over in Can-

NMU Endorsed For Training Of Law Officers

A resolution endorsing Northern Michigan University's law enforcement training center was passed Thursday by a group of Upper Peninsula law enforcement officials in a meeting on the NMU campus.

The officials, including Escanaba Police Chief Harold Finman and four other U.P. chiefs of police, explored the nature and objectives of the center, and discussed curriculum, program cost, and methods to raise the standards of law enforcement as a career field.

Thomas Jernstad, former Marquette County sheriff who recently was named consultant for the NMU center, announced tentative plans to hold the first training class in Marquette June 19.

Attending the meeting were Clyde Craven, resident agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation; Robert Bilgen, district commissioner, Michigan State Police; Russell Adams, Stan Whitman and Jernstad, NMU; and Chiefs of Police Donald Nevala, Ironwood; Forrest White, Sault Ste. Marie; Lawrence Lancot, Houghton; Harold Finman, Escanaba; and George Johnson, Marquette.

oda on the chunky peninsula between Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair. Crows have their own migration schedules. Some remain to nest in this part of the country while others fly north, nesting in every Michigan county.

How they apportion nesting territory, no one knows. We do know why the rough-legged hawks come and go. They hunt mice on open fields, free of snow. They fly south, they fly north, according to snow cover or lack of it.

One of the earliest signs of spring is a home-made kite tangled in overhead wires, or a game of marbles in a school playground. Or pike moving up a creek fed by sun-warmed run-off.

The robin has acquired a dubious reputation as herald of spring. In early February, the "first robin" was reported from St. Clair, Mich. Chances are this bird was a phony, a publicity seeker. It had lingered all winter in some swamp thicket where haws and berries were abundant, then showed up in town, expecting to get newspaper notice, a plug on radio news.

The whole subject of migration is mysterious, and an incidental mystery is the unwillingness of some birds to move on with the majority of their species. Blue geese and snow geese travel from their wilderness breeding grounds, west of Hudson Bay to the Gulf of Mexico in mass formation, yet stragglers linger along the flyways. Two blue geese wintered recently on Belle Isle, and without seeking each other's company. One of the geese hung out with herring gulls at the head of the island while another stayed by itself near the skating pavilion.

COL. GEORGE E. MORANDA, the U.S. Army's chief information officer in Europe, has been transferred to the Pentagon in Washington. Road Conference In Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—More than 700 county road commissioners, engineers and municipal road department employees are expected to attend the 52nd annual Michigan Highway Conference in Grand Rapids March 14-16. The conference is sponsored by the Michigan Department of State Highways and the County Road Association of Michigan.

New Traffic Sign

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—There's a new traffic sign beside the busy street between Methodist Hospital and the Methodist School of Nursing. It bears the silhouette of a capped nurse and reads: "Slow — dear crossing — 5 m.p.h."

Europe Resists Nonproliferation

LONDON (AP)—"Nonproliferation" is almost a dirty word in some European capitals.

To critics, a proposed U.S.-Soviet treaty to ban the spread of nuclear weapons is a device to keep Europe in second-class status.

The European objections to the nuclear nonproliferation treaty which is being discussed at the Geneva disarmament conference are as complex as Europe's history.

Some Europeans fear the treaty would halt the Continent's drive toward unity, undercut its military security and cripple its peaceful atomic technology.

Justified or not, these fears are holding up the East-West agreement.

The treaty would prevent nuclear powers from passing on their weapons or know-how to other nations. It pledges the nonnuclear not to make or acquire atomic weapons, and sets up an inspection system run by the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna.

Bonn Leads Opposition

Opposition is headed by West Germany, which is not formally represented at the Geneva talks but has an observer there.

German leaders, while welcoming a restriction of nuclear weapons, complain that their country's nuclear technology would be held back. Some say defense plans would be hobbled because they include use of nuclear warheads now under U.S. control.

Italy, which fears that the treaty may slow down the integration of Western Europe, has taken a cautious line but opinion seems to be more in favor of the treaty. The independent press generally has praised it despite some misgivings.

Italy has a direct interest in the talks, since it is the Common Market's largest producer of nuclear power and plans to double its capacity in five years.

The French are clearly against the treaty and will refuse to sign it. They see it as a symbol of what President Charles de Gaulle calls "the hegemony of the superpowers."

France has an A-bomb and nuclear power agreements with its neighbors. It fears that inspection would affect the status of Euratom, the Common Market's atomic energy agency.

Britain, alone among Western European nations, supports the treaty without reservations and has lobbied for it. This may affect a bid to enter the Common Market.

Detroit Calls Powell's Ouster 'Racist Action'

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's outspoken Negro leader, the Rev. Albert B. Cleage, has asked Negro legislators throughout the country to stay away from all legislative actions next Tuesday, in protest of the exclusion of Adam Clayton Powell from Congress.

Calling the House refusal to seat Powell a "racist action," Cleage said that the Inner City Organizing Committee, which he heads, would hold a protest rally at the Central United Church of Christ in Detroit.

"No black man who has been elected by the black community can expect to keep the respect of anybody if he goes about business as usual, meeting and grinning with white colleagues, after a black man has been lynched," said Cleage.

A similar protest last Feb. 13 failed to materialize. Cleage and other Detroit Negro leaders had called for a nationwide Negro boycott of jobs, schools and stores for that day to protest the investigation of Adam Clayton Powell's activities that a House committee was then conducting.

GM Accedes To Jobless Pay Edict

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors has advised the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) that it will not appeal a decision granting jobless pay to GM workers idled by a wildcat strike in Ohio.

The strike, declared illegal by both the company and the United Auto Workers union, shut down a vital parts plant in Mansfield, Ohio. This forced the company to lay off 97,200 workers in Michigan and about 100,000 elsewhere around the nation. An MESC spokesman said it was not known how many will be eligible for unemployment compensation.

"Natural Sonar"

The oilbird, a nocturnal bird which lives in tropical caves, is the only bird known to use "natural sonar" similar to that used by bats to avoid hitting objects at night, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Miniskirt A Real Saigon Standout

SAIGON (AP)—You don't see many miniskirts in Saigon, but when you do they look mighty mini.

The traditional dress in Vietnam is the ao dai with high neckline, long sleeves and pantaloons to the shoe tops. The ao dai covers up everything.

In the midst of all that, the mini looks like a bikini at a full dress ball.

Heads turn, boys goggle and the oldsters cluck as a pair of legs — uncovered! above the knee! — step smartly along the tree-lined streets.

When honey blonde and shapely American entertainer Chris Noel pranced in her miniskirt through Saigon's Central Market, the eyes of the fish peddlers nearly popped into their bass baskets.

It isn't that the mini is so terribly much more sexy. The ao dai, although it covers a lot, has plenty going for it. The mini has novelty appeal and foreign flavor, besides what it does for the shapely.

A serious young Vietnamese lawyer reflects the thinking of the traditionalists: "I sometimes like to see the miniskirt, but I certainly wouldn't want my girl friend to wear one. The ao dai is much better, more discreet. The miniskirt is just a fad."

An attractive secretary has another view.

"I was shocked when I first saw a miniskirt four or five months ago, but now I think they're great," she said. "It's the new style. I'd love to wear one, except everyone in my office would make fun."

"What I have done, though, is shorten the hem on a couple of my European dresses. Every week I take them up another inch or so — now they come just above the knee. My mother hasn't noticed yet, but I don't think I can go much higher."
